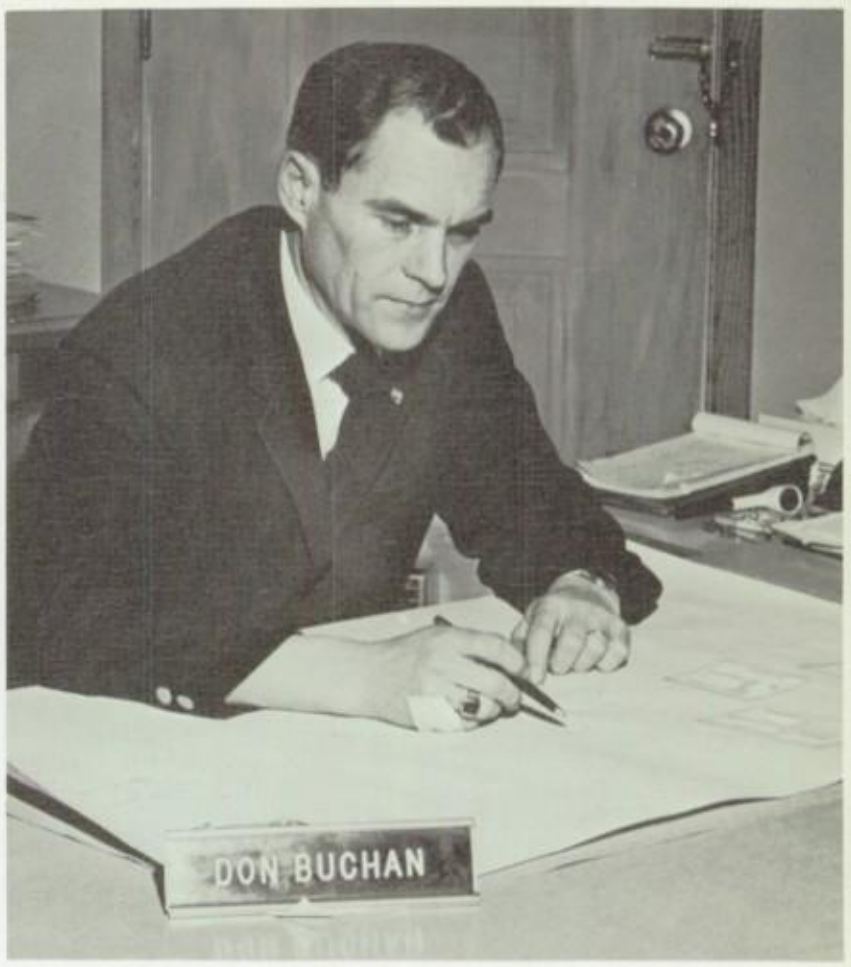
The Mona Shores Board of Education looks over the plans for the new junior high school. The members are Mrs. L. V. Hendrick, Trustee; Mrs. John Privacky, Trustee; Mr. Orville Janis, President; Mr. Otto Ross, Secretary. Row Two: Mr. Donald Arnson, Trustee; Mrs. John Hradsky, Treasurer; and Mr. Lyle Williams, Trustee.

Board of Education and Administration

Building maintenance, handling curriculum, and working with the staff are the main school functions of Principal C. William Hanichen. Mr. Hanichen stated that he felt this year was characterized by the strengthening of existing programs rather than through the creation of new ones.

That the school is the student body is the philosophy of Mr. Hanichen. The actions of the student body represent the reputation the school will have. "The school," he adds, "can be only as good as the students want to make it. I believe we have a real fine student body, most are sincere and conscientious about learning, and most good citizens."

Mr. William A. Luyendyk, Superintendent, makes a final check of an official school notice.



Mr. Don Buchan, Assistant Superientendent, checks over the layout for the new junior high library.

Unite to Guide Student Life Through School Policies

Mr. Ed Carrigan, assistant principal, is in charge of the day-to-day operation and general supervision of Mona Shores. He spends much of his time working with student-teacher relationships in an effort to close the generation gap.

This year, Mr. Weiss took over attendance. Having left this job, Mr. Carrigan has more time to spend with students. He enjoys the year much more because he is able to see the student body as a whole, not just isolated cases of skippers and vandals. Mr. Carrigan feels there has been improved co-operation between teachers and students.

On his list of duties is advisor to Student Council. He also works closely with executive board.

Mr. Carrigan has come to the conclusion that kids are the same everywhere. They're interested in World Affairs and are positive-minded about the future.

English Provides the Basic Foundation for Comprehending

Mr. John Halloran, Contemporary Literature and Senior English teacher, gives Clarence Kuzma help on his review of To Sir, With Love.

Due to the work of Mr. John Halloran, chairman of the English Department, combined with the aid of Mr. Charles St. Louis of the A-V Department, English classes had the opportunity to see movies such as Richard III, Animal Farm, Wuthering Heights, and the racy Tom Jones. These movies correlate with the Senior English curriculum of following history of British and American literature.

Many changes were made in positions for the Department, beginning with the addition of seven new teachers. Mr. Gillhespy took over debate, Mr. Reed assumed responsibility for the yearbook, and Mr. Woodall advised

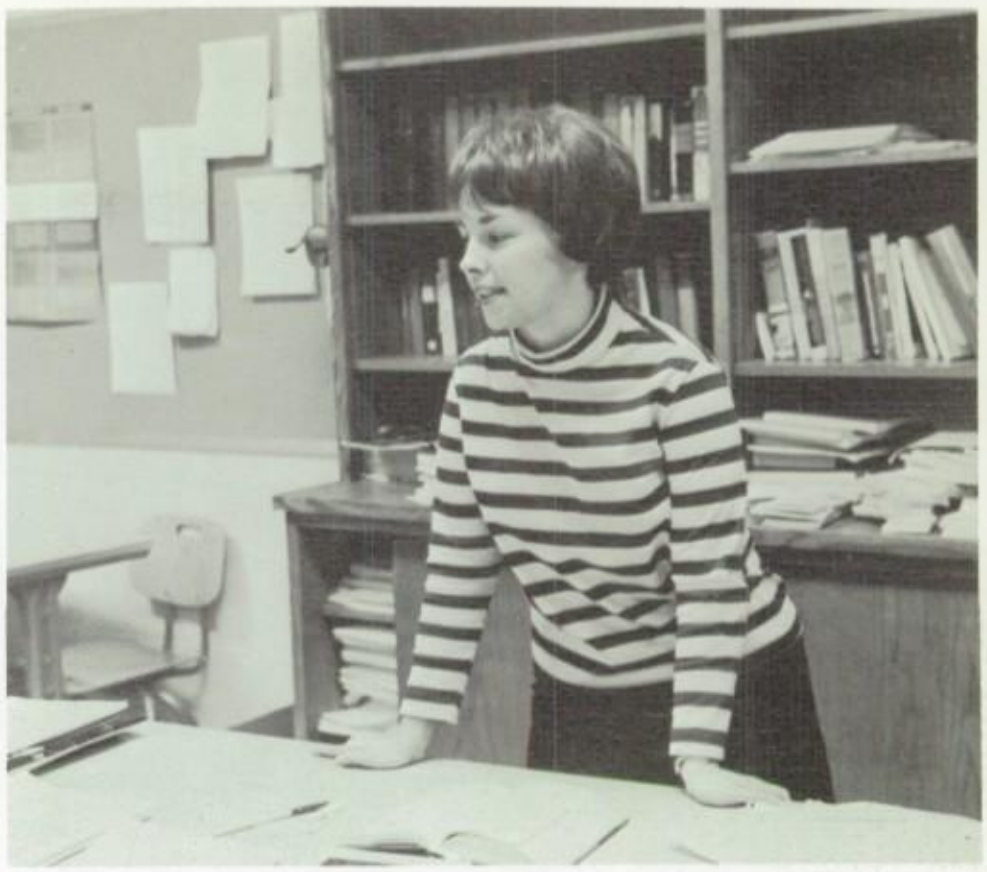
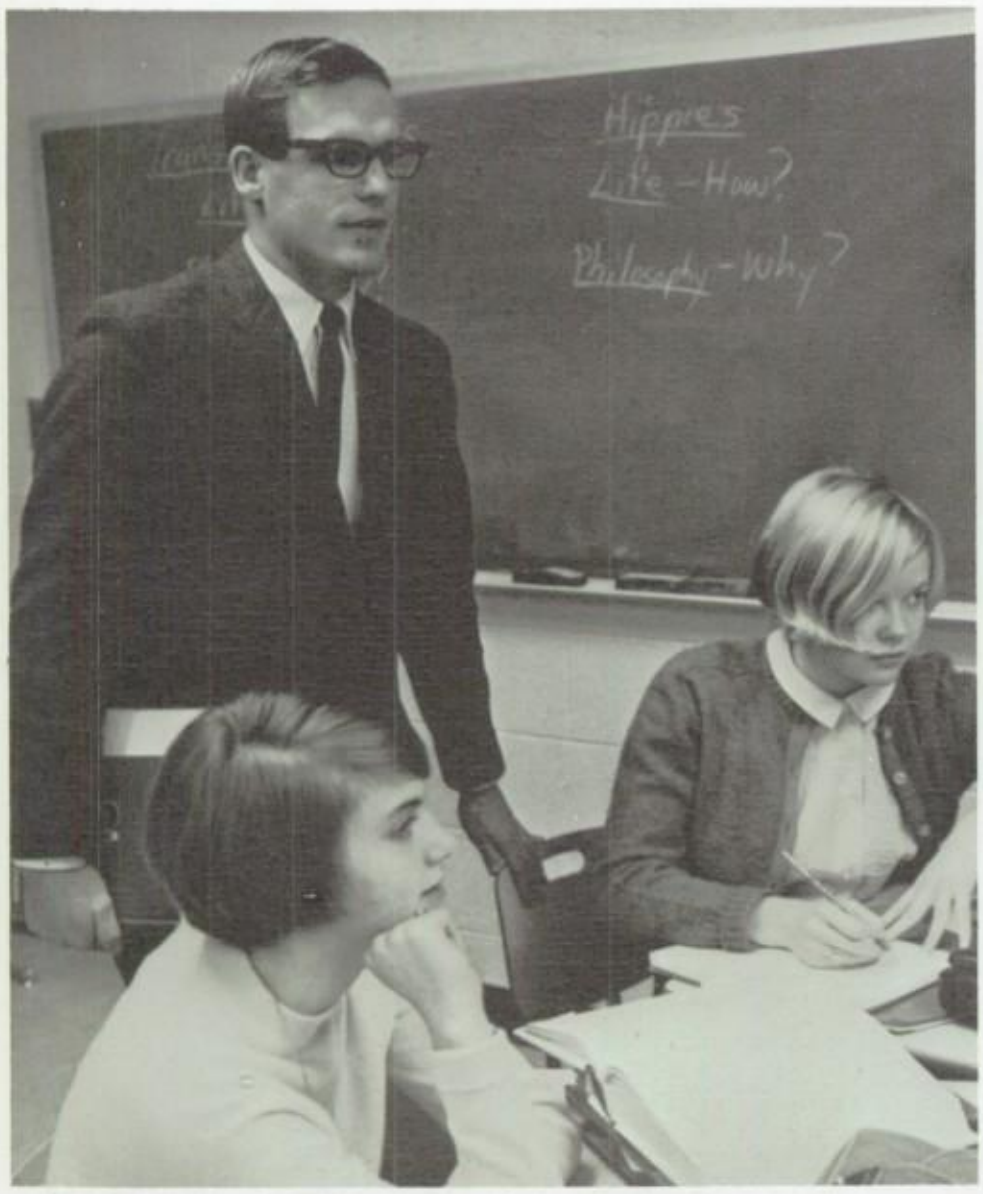
Phasing has been extended this year to a tri-grouping system. Seniors are phased into I, II, and Honors system. Underclassmen are phased I, II, and III.

This year the debate squad traveled and performed extensively. Dramatics featured plays with student participation, highlighted by the three one-acts which were directed by the students also.

English offers many electives for the interested student. Broadcast Speech, Great Books, and Journalism are a few examples.



Mrs. Roberta Leibee lectures to one of her English III classes. She also teaches Business English.



Mr. Bill Keur is in his second year of teaching Junior English. Besides having four English classes, Mr. Keur prepares students for college writing through Advanced Composition.

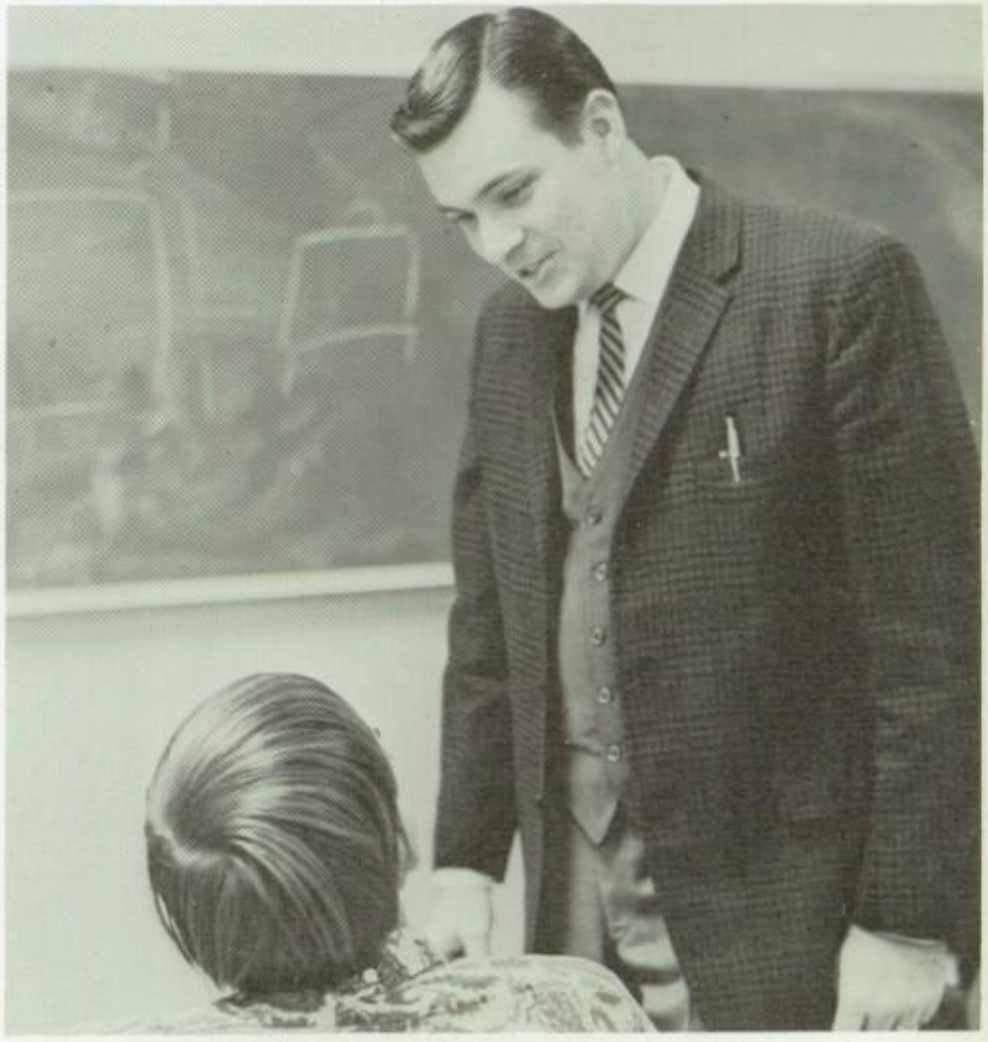
Another teacher in her second year at Shores is Miss Evelyn Weckerly. Miss Weckerly teaches English II.

Mr. Gary Reed, Reading Improvement instructor, explains the use of SRA reading material to Shelly Edick. He also teaches English II and Creative Writing.

Term papers require research, research, and more research. This student is realizing that he will be spending many long hours at the library.

Lecturing on the structure of the novel is Mr. John Morgan. All five of his classes are sophomore. Besides learning English, students get a dash of Morgan's philosophy on life—including his immortal "Santa Claus is a sham."

Speech and drama are taught by Mr. Travis Gunter. He is active in extra-curricular drama activities and directed "The Mouse That Roared." This year the Class of '71 chose Mr. Gunter their advisor.



Mrs. Iva Hodges explains the merits of the Scholastic Reading Unit to Mrs. Janet Evertson, Mr. Dale Driscoll, Mr. John Springer, Miss Jeanne Cooper, Miss Lorraine Poel, and Mrs. Naia Nelson.

New Teachers Add New Ideas

Receiving seven new teachers this year (the highest number for any department) was the MS English Department.

Four of the new teachers were in charge of the Freshmen English classes. They were Mrs. Iva Hodges, Mr. John Springer, Miss Lorraine Poel, and Miss Jeanne Cooper.

In addition, Mrs. Janet Evertson taught English III, Miss Cooper taught U.S. History, and Mrs. Naia Nelson gave instruction in Speech and English IV.

Former MS student teachers returning to teach full time this year were Mr. William Gillhespy and Mr. Dale Driscoll. Mr. Gillhespy took over the Debate and Speech classes, while Mr. Driscoll taught English II.

Mr. William Gillhespy, MS Debate coach, ponders the 1968 debate topic, the control of criminal investigation procedures.

Mr. T. G. Lee, head librarian, consults a reference book. Eva Alms, assistant librarian, looks on.

The addition of new materials marked improvements in the Library Department this year. More permanent boundbooks, added spinners, a large globe, map and chart case, microfiche readers, a new vertical file, and wallboard brackets were a few of the articles Mr. Lee, head librarian, was instrumental in getting. The Teachers' Library was organized and a file added.

An innovation—a coronastat copier—caused much reaction this year. Students may copy encyclopedia articles, or most anything, for a dime. The library also received a new microfiche reader.

Librarians at Muskegon and Mona Shores had an exchange day last fall. Mrs. Alms visited Muskegon High School while their assistant librarian came here for a day. Both women received ideas which they hope to apply to their respective schools.

New Materials Vitalize Library

Setting up Christmas decorations are Mrs. Jean Prediger and Mrs. Jan Woodring.

Teachers allow students adequate library time for term papers.

A.V. Department

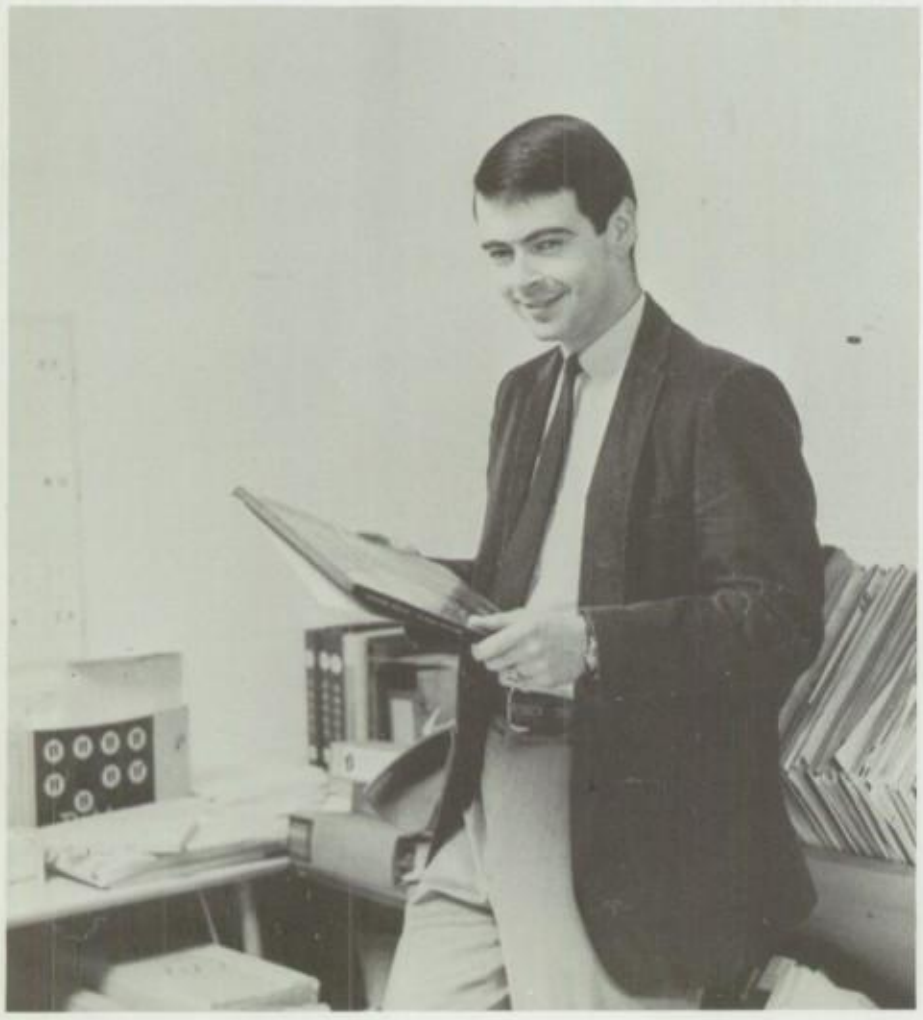
Supplies School With Films

The Audio Visual department, headed by Mr. Charles St. Louis, keeps M.S. supplied with films. Teachers order movies through the department, AV student assistants are instructed in winding the films and operating the machines.

Language classes use films in their native tongues to give students a chance to hear their language, while the English department uses films of novels as an aid to teaching. Science and math teachers utilize films to explain their subjects further.

Audio Visual Assistant Sam Pulos prepares a film to be shown in a Spanish class.

Student assistant Rhonda Findorff orders film for various teachers.



Mr. Charles St. Louis, who heads the Audio Visual Department, looks over an album that has just arrived. Mr. St. Louis is in charge of ordering and showing all films, tapes, and sound recordings.

Taking attendance in one of his classes is Mr. Robert Driscoll, who teaches U.S. History and Consumers Economics.

Social Studies aids all MS students by broadening their knowledge of the cultural, historical, governmental, economical, and geographical world that is now and the world that has been.

In the areas of World History, World Geography, and U.S. History, the Social Studies Department is in its second year of phasing.

Many outside sources of information were used by students to supplement their studies in the classroom. The World Geography classes have taken field trips to local governmental and historical locations. In studying religions of the world, classes have referred to local churches and clergy.

Government courses stressed the need for students to realize the fundamentals of citizenship and the importance of becoming aware of politics in action.

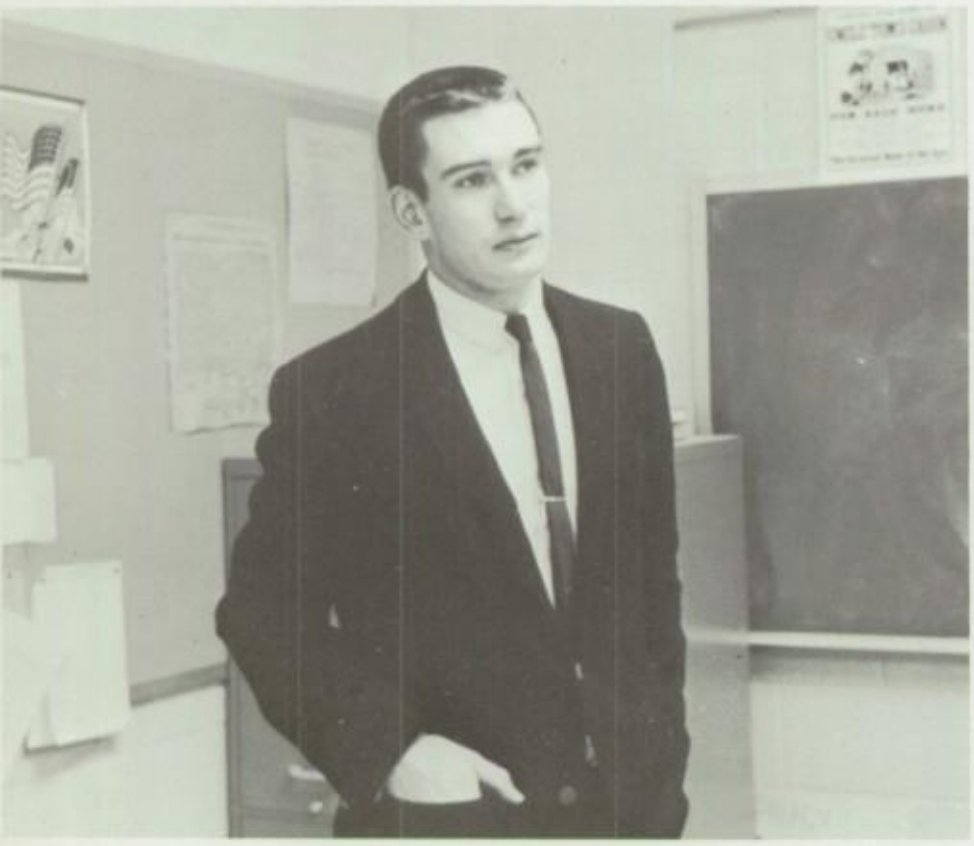
Full-length feature films presenting history in a "come alive" fashion were shown in the spring to history classes.

The failures and achievements of today eventually enter into the sphere of social studies to open up challenges for tomorrow.

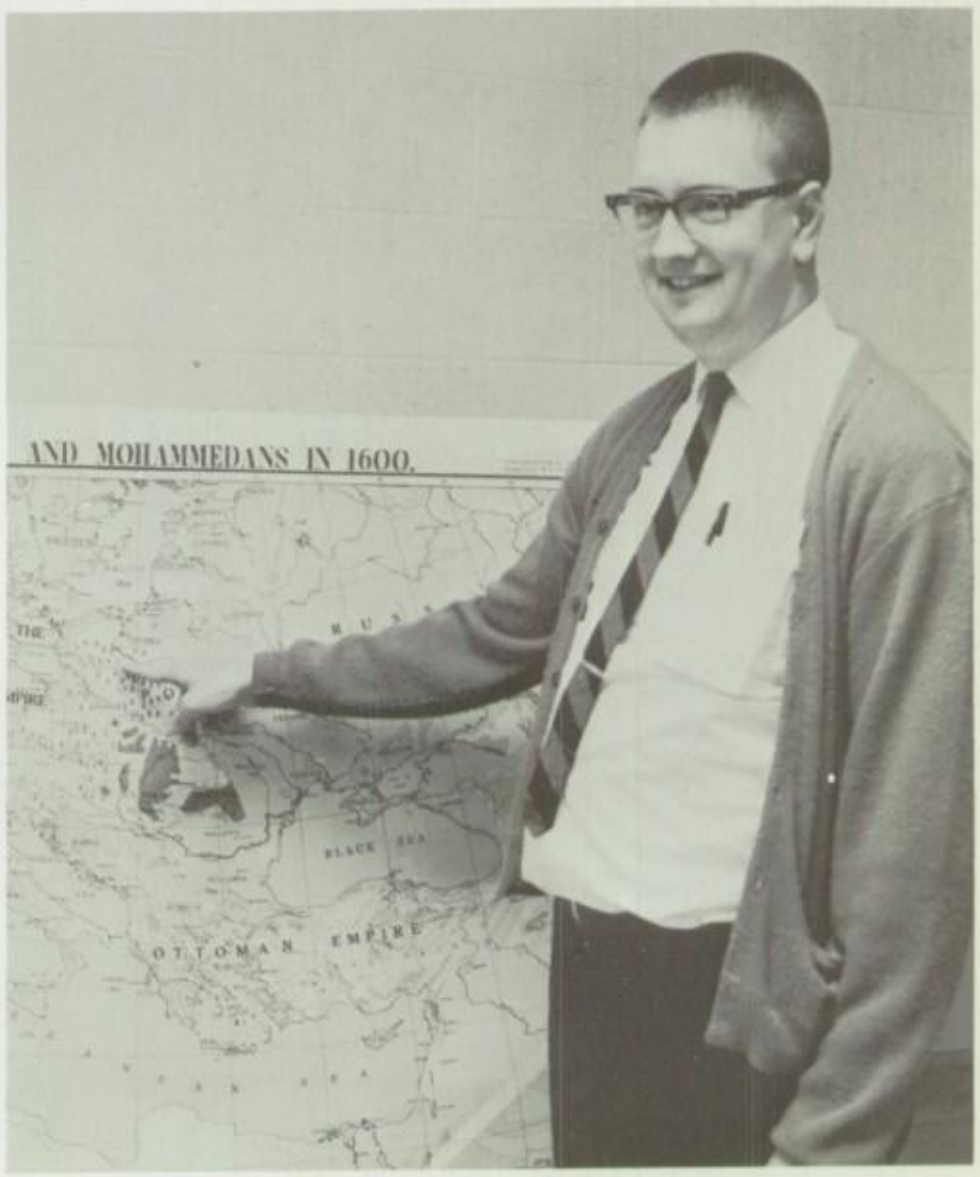
Mr. Thomas Wilson (left) took over Mr. Conrad Woodall's classes in February when Mr. Woodall left Shores to work for IBM. Mr. Wilson teaches World History, U.S. History and assists in Publications.

Cultures Through History Courses Results in a The World 1968

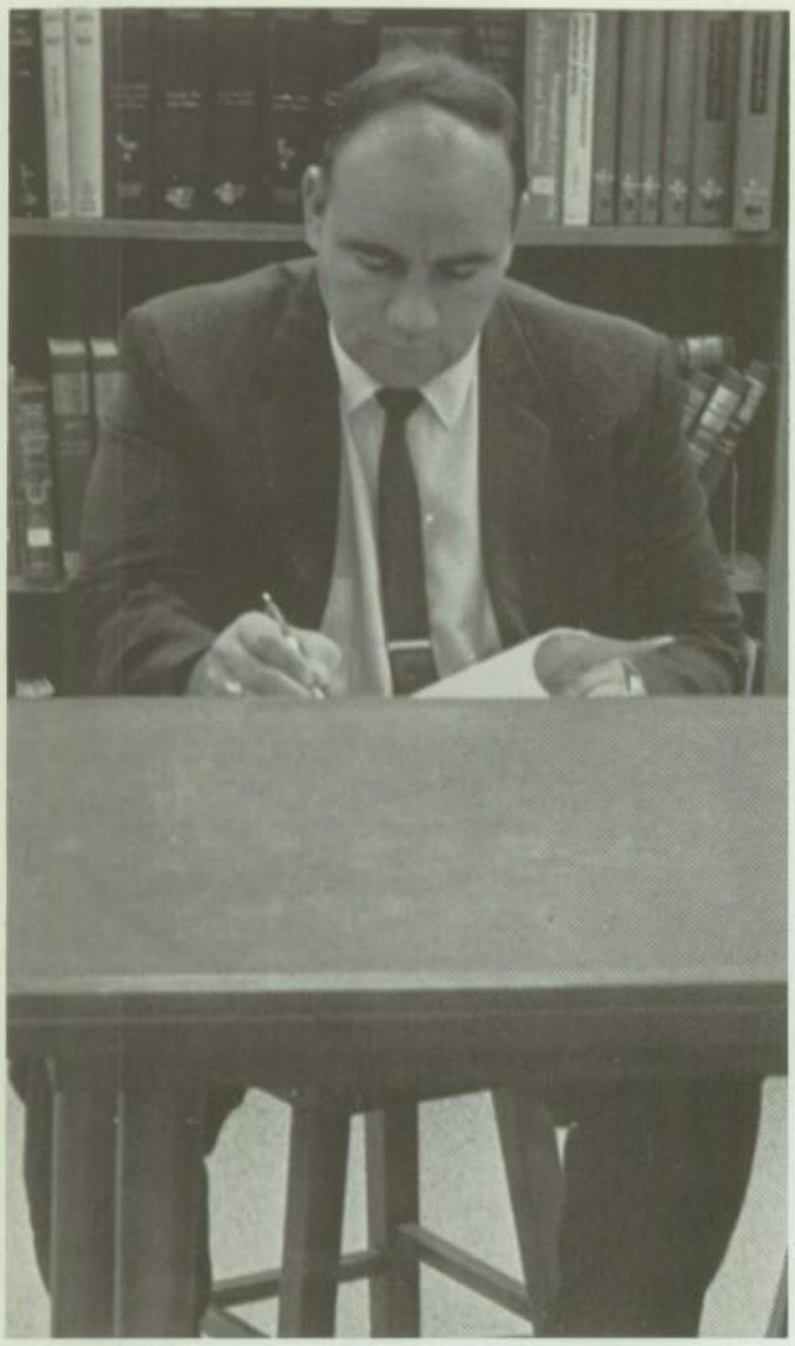
Manifest destiny is the subject of Mr. Gerald Fitzpatrick's lecture. In addition to four U.S. History classes, the former Notre Dame track star has a class of boys gym.



Mr. Gary Harden points out the geographical boundaries of 17th century Eurasia to his history class. Mr. Harden teaches World History and supervises one study hall.



Mr. Jack Cooper, Government and American Problems instructor, points out former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara. Bright students know Clark Clifford is the new Secretary.



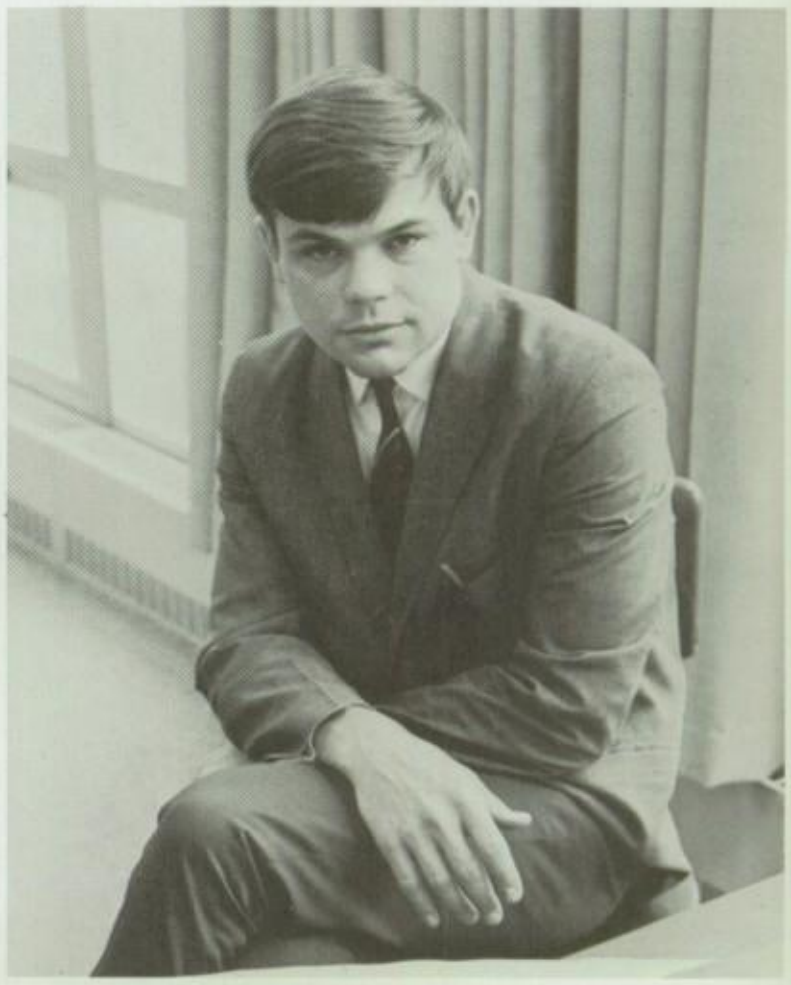
Mr. Robert Bacon prepares a lecture for his three history classes. He also teaches Boys' Physical Education.

Mr. Jacob Funkhouser, World Geography instructor, combines textbook work with field trips to geographic and governmental points of interest in the Muskegon area.

Social Studies Emphasizes

Mr. Leland David seems to enjoy passing out tests to his students. He teaches U.S. History and Boys' Physical Education.

Mr. Charles Bluem takes time out from his planning and counseling period for a picture. World Geography and World History are his subjects.

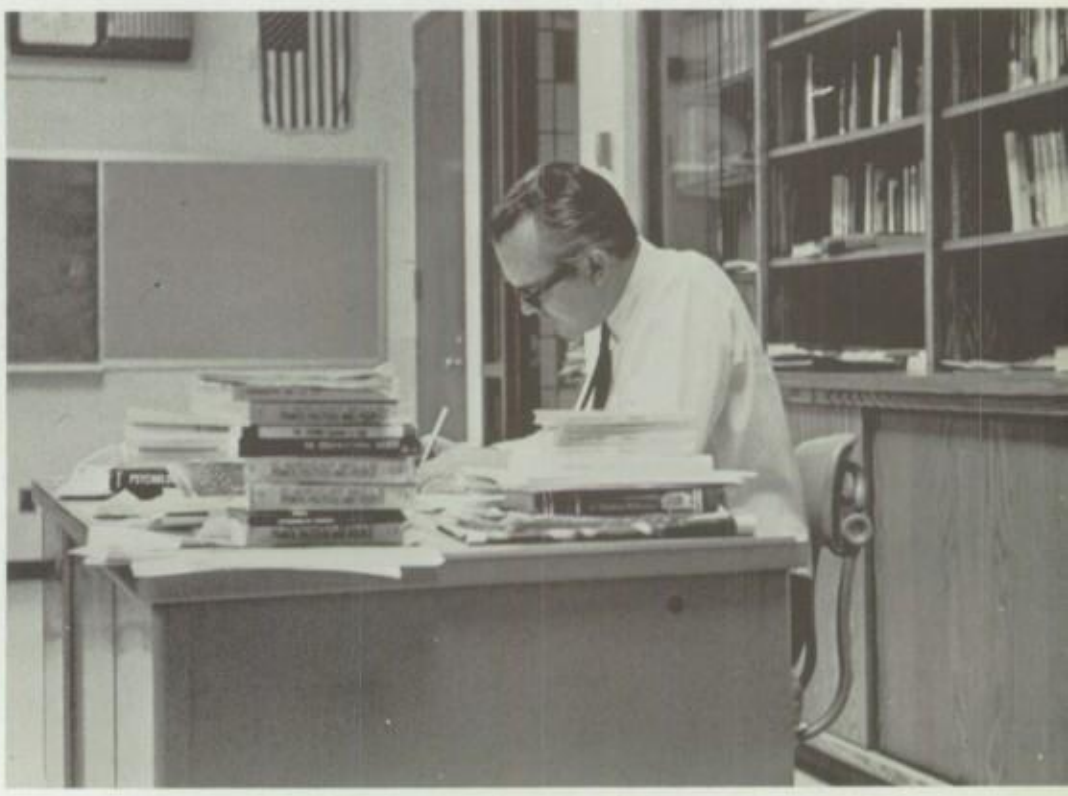


People and Ideas

One of the first teachers freshmen come into contact with is Mr. Roy Burch. He teaches five hours of the required ninth grade Civics. This is his fourth year at Shores.

After student teaching at Mona Shores, Mr. Otto Borgeson has completed his second year teaching Civics and American Government.

Human Behavior books clutter Mr. Scott Ross' desk. Mr. Ross teaches Sociology and Psychology.



Mr. Gordon Gutowski and Miss Marilyn Brusman, two new teachers in the language department, examine The Classical Journal in the teachers' library.

Foreign Language

Greater Understanding of a Complex World

The language courses offered at Mona Shores enrich the minds of all who participate and the programs are also most valuable to college preparatory students.

This year the language department added a second year of German to its curriculum.

By supplementing lessons with motion pictures, the French, Spanish, and German classes, gained a better understanding not only of the language, but of the people of the country they are studying.

The language labs, through the utilization of tapes and records, enable students to hear their mistakes and to learn from them.

Summer programs in Europe provide groups of students with knowledge and cultural enrichment unobtainable in their classroom experience.

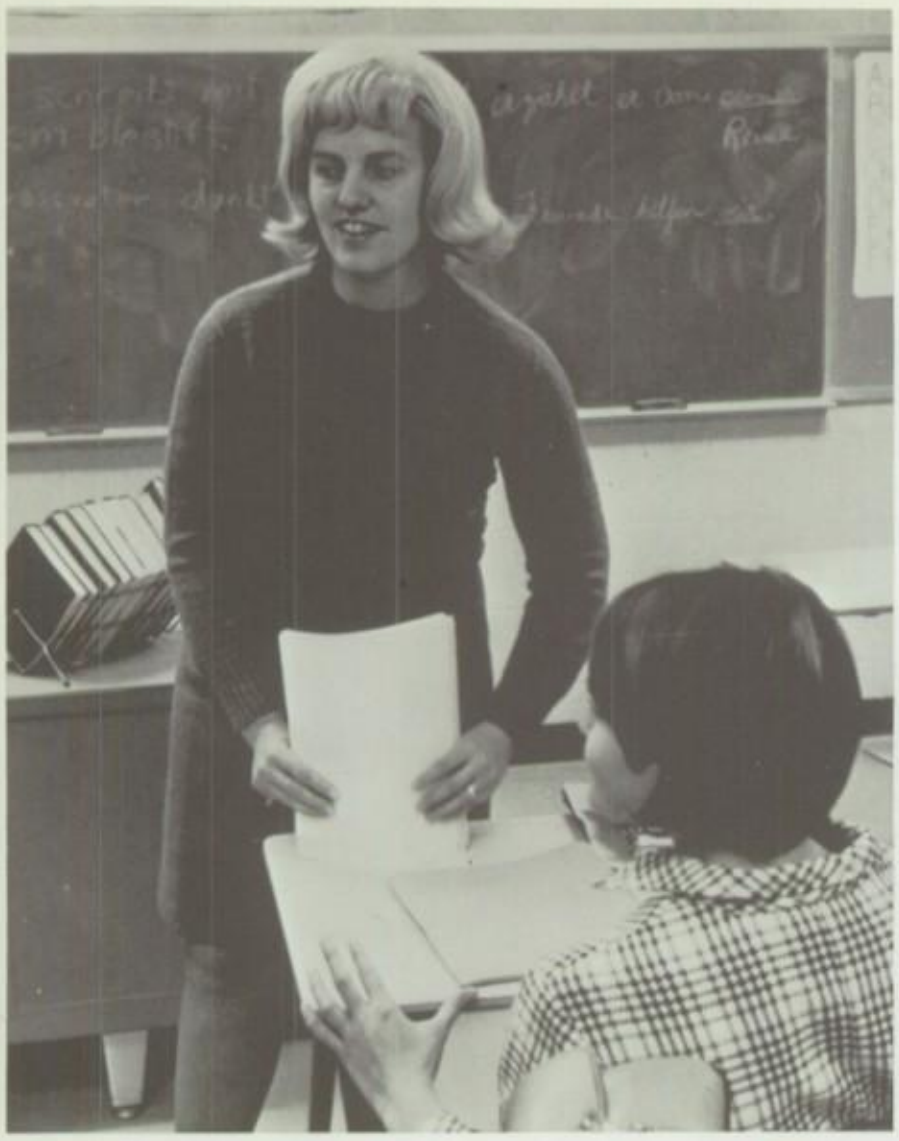
Mr. Charles Hutchison, M.S. French teacher, lectures on the position of the adjective as it occurs in the French language.



Preparing to pass out a test to her students is Mrs. Davies, Spanish II instructor.

Mr. Ed Anderson discusses grammar and prounciation along with German culture.

Mr. William Merdzinski, who teaches Spanish I, explains the proper use of the language lab to one of his students.

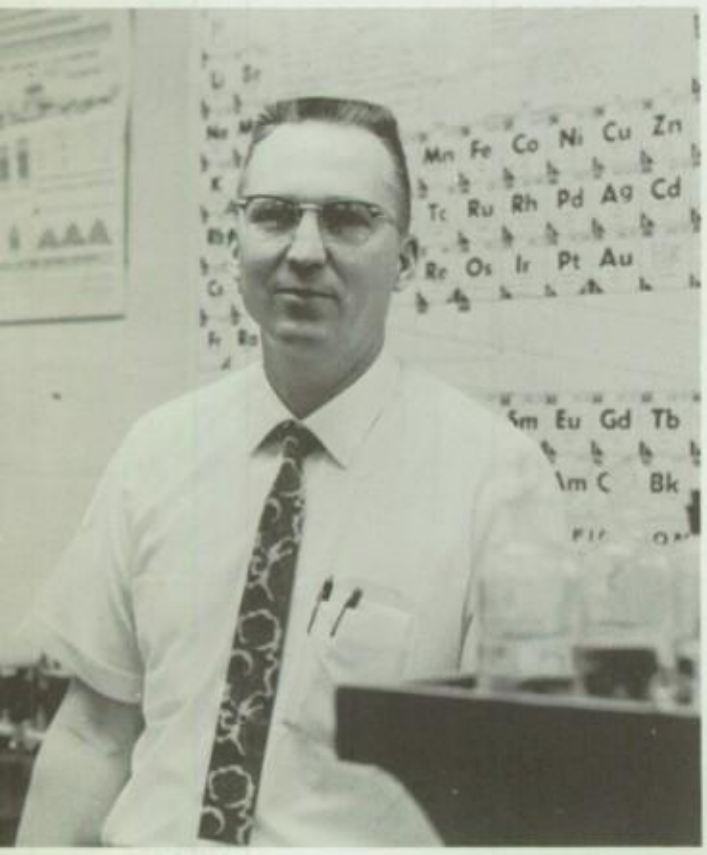
Attentively listening to an explanation of the mettler balance are Barb Van Andel and Eric Erickson. Their teacher, Mr. De Vries instructs Chemistry I, II, and Chem Study.

With drawings illustrating his points, Mr. William Scott addresses one of his Biology classes.

Mr. Ralph Weiss, veteran of the Science Department, has two General Physics classes. The remainder of his time is spent handling attendance.



Experimentation

The Science Department this year, under the head of Mr. Harlan Suffield, provided students with basic and advanced knowledge of the natural sciences.

Teaching his first year at Mona Shores was Mr. Leslie DeVries. Chemistry II was offered for the first time this year. Going into more detail than Chemistry I, this course is compared to a Freshman College Chemistry course.

Mr. Harlan Suffield examines a test tube experiment produced by Shelley Tamblyn and Vicki Winingar in one of his Chem Study courses.

Looking over a geranium in the climatorium is instructor Mr. Edward Wilson. He has three Biology I classes and one class of Biology II students.

Mr. Roger Tharp has four Biology I classes and one advanced. Dave Mayo of his Biology II class boils a fruit fly culture while Mr. Tharp looks on.

Showing Rhonda Siegel an experiment in General Science is her outgoing instructor Mr. Garold Smith. He has four General Science classes and one Biology.

Math Department

The recognition of achievement passes over Mr. Dennis Babcock's face as he teaches math.

Under the head of Mr. Fred Tosopeus, the math department offered a diversified curriculum this year including the addition on Advanced Geometry and Matrix Algebra. Next year Probability and Statistics will be the math electives for students who show the aptitude and inclination to pursue math further.

Three sections of ungraded math were taught this year by Mrs. Mabel Brooks. Students proceed at their own rate. Students may take anywhere from one to two or more semesters to complete the course, depending upon their ability.

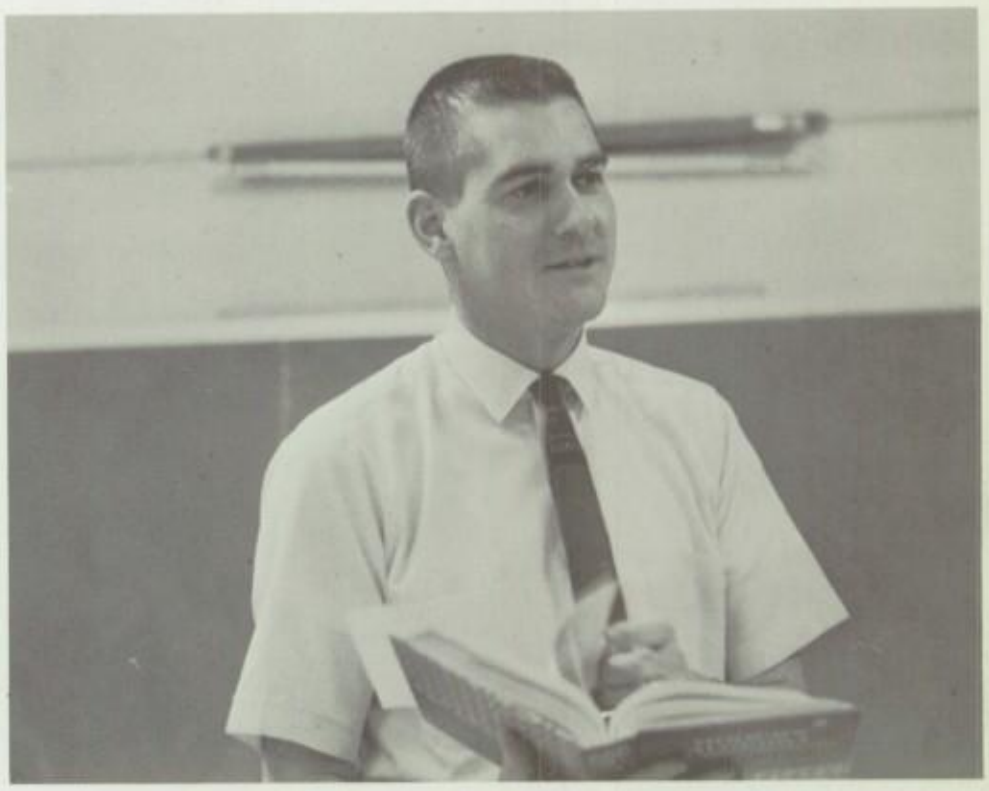
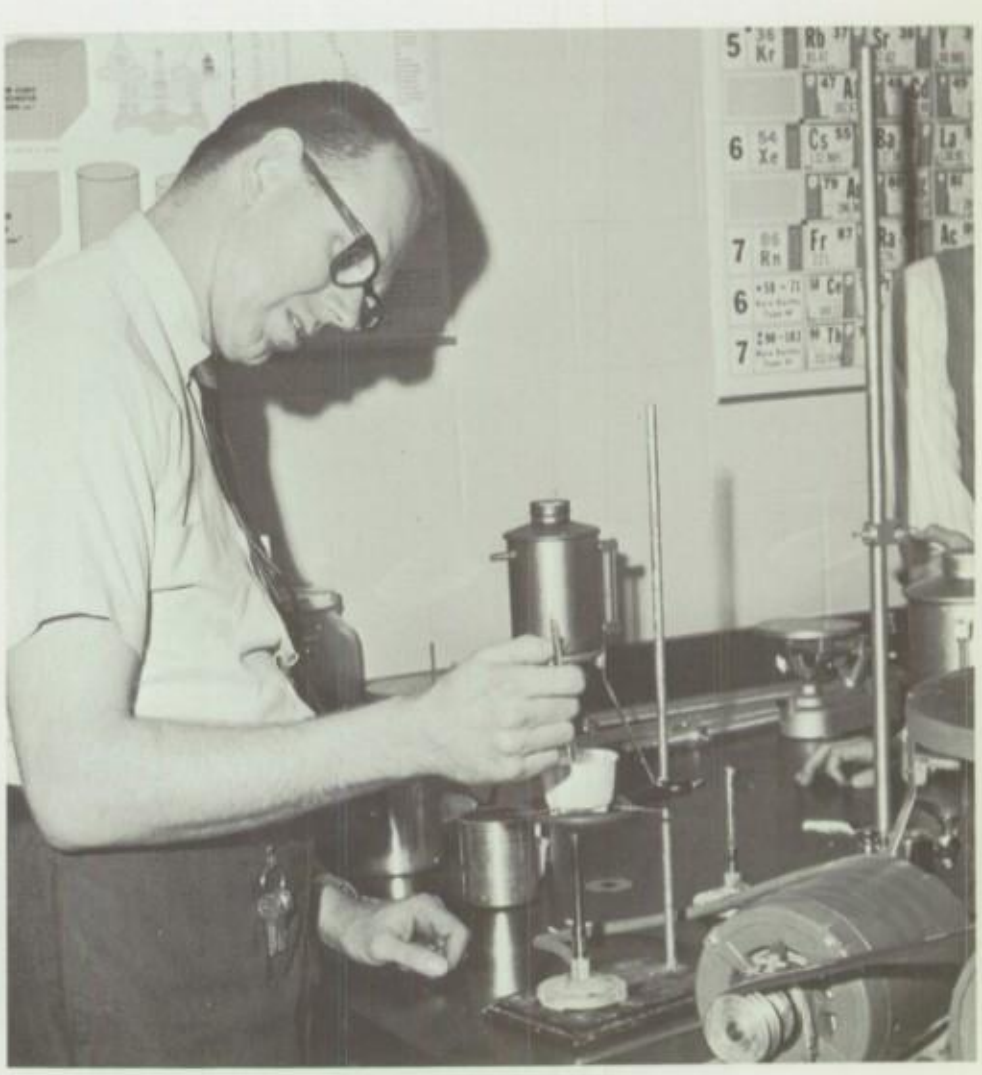
Seniors Bruce Bricker, Bruce Wieten, and Tom Kent and Junior Pat Anderson scoring the top 4% of all students taking the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition Test. After taking part II, they were recommended for Scholarships.



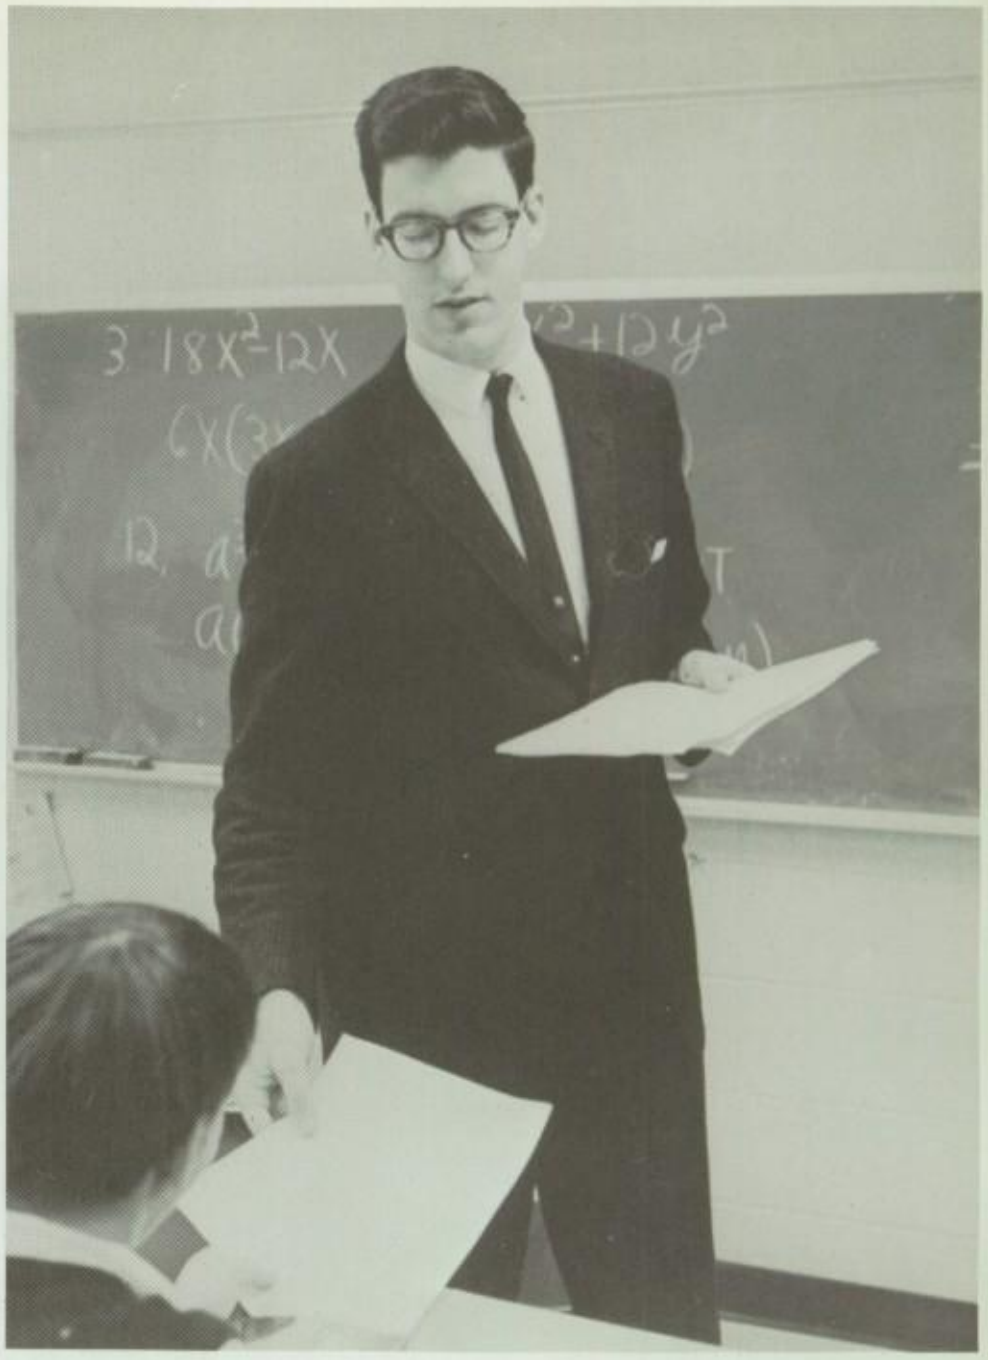
Thumbing through the pages of his book, Mr. Don Dezelsky stresses his point. He teaches Algebra and Trig.

A demonstration serves as the best way to teach. Mr. Fred Toxopeus makes good use of the sphere as he teaches General Math.



Mr. Stanley Bode demonstrates to his Physics Class the procedure involved in boiling water in a paper cup! Mr. Bode also teaches General Algebra.

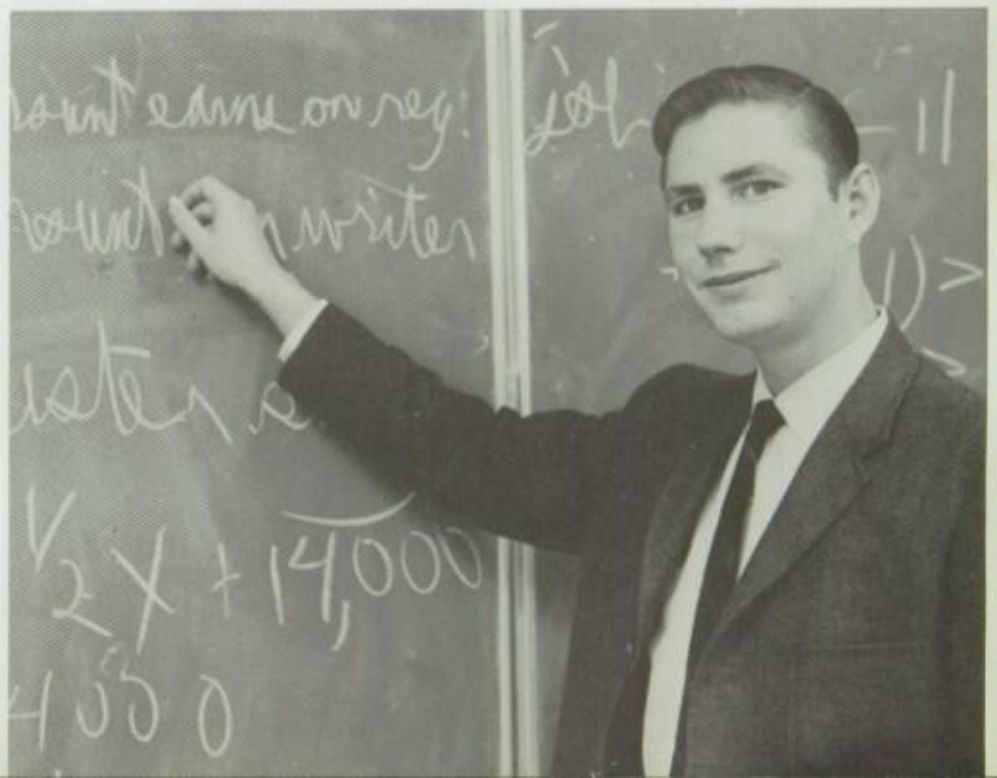
Ungraded math and accelerated geometry are courses taught by Mrs. Mabel Brooks.



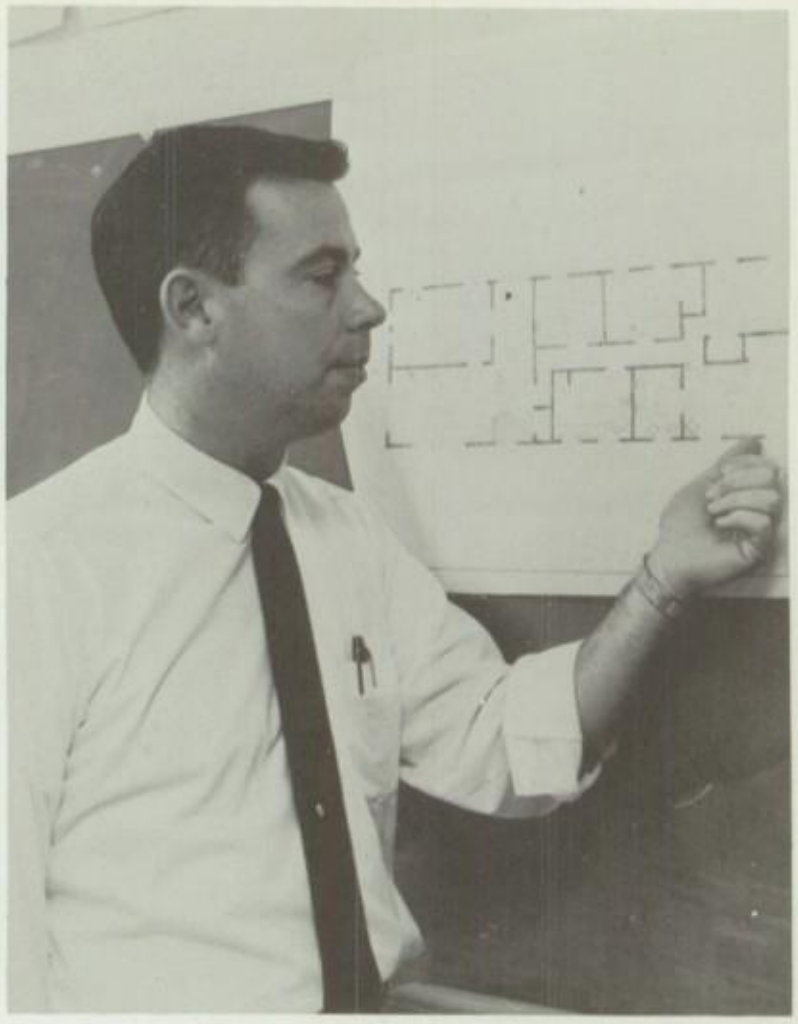
Mr. Bowen hands out an exam to an apprehensive student. He teaches Algebra I & II, and General Geometry.

Mathematics Disciplined the Mind

Teaching Matrix Algebra for Seniors is Mr. Bristol's speciality. He also has Gen. Algebra I, Geometry, and General Math courses.



Mr. William Ross, Metals I, II and III instructor, helps Jerry Durham use the vertical milling machine in the shop.



Mechanical Drawing I and II and Residential Drawing are taught by Mr. Dan Hamilton. Here he explains a blueprint to his Residential Drawing class.

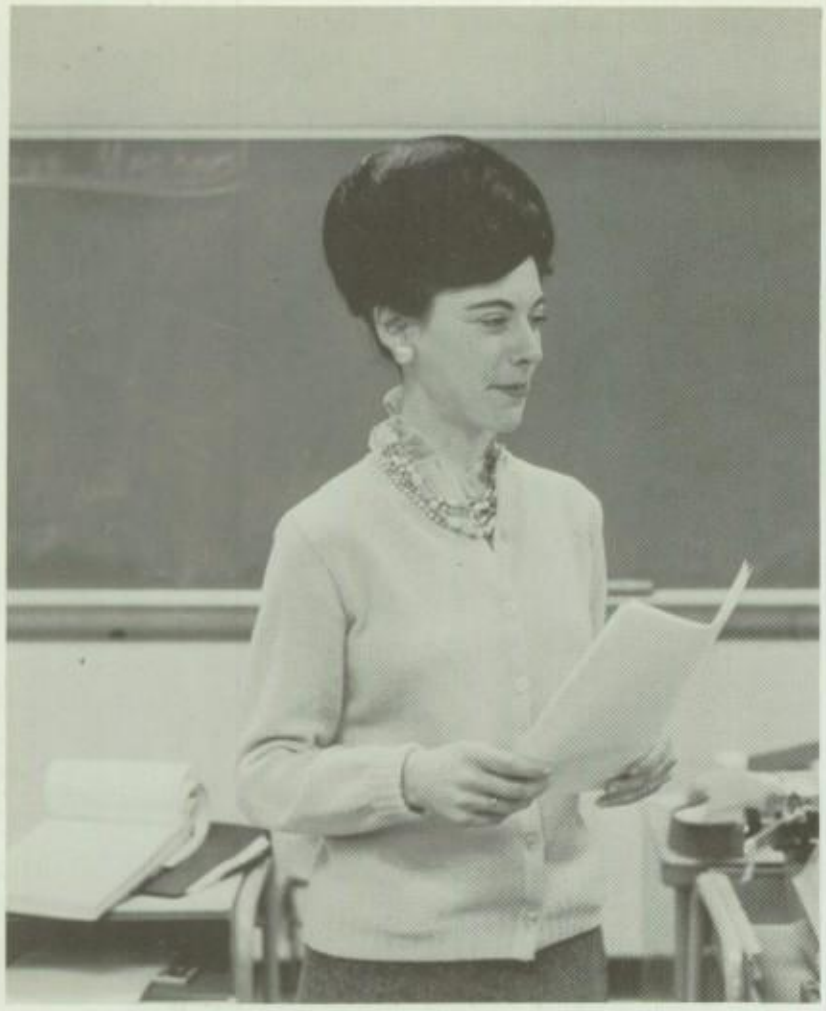
Industrial Arts Adds Furniture Repair

This year Industrial Arts added a new class, Furniture Repair. Students enrolled in a repair class bring worn furniture to be fixed. Old furniture is re-done, new limbs are constructed, and necessary repairs are made.

Metals, Woods, and other Industrial Arts courses provide a ground for the shop-minded student. Those interested in Engineering find Mechanical and Residential Drawing a good background.

Barb Witkowski sands a table leg while refinishing a table in Furniture Repair.

MS Opens Business



Mrs. Simia Robinson, Typing I and II instructor begins the class with a timed typing exercise.

The MS objective through the Business Education Department, under the direction of Mr. Donald Mosley, is to install in the minds of students a broader understanding and appreciation of the purposes, functions, and activities of both big and small business. To reach their goal of developing an awareness of the career opportunities in business, the department has gone two phases, Secretarial Studies and Business Administration. The Secretarial phase is aimed at turning out top-notch secretaries prepared to assume office responsibilities. The Business Administration phase is aimed at giving students a general education concerning today's business world.

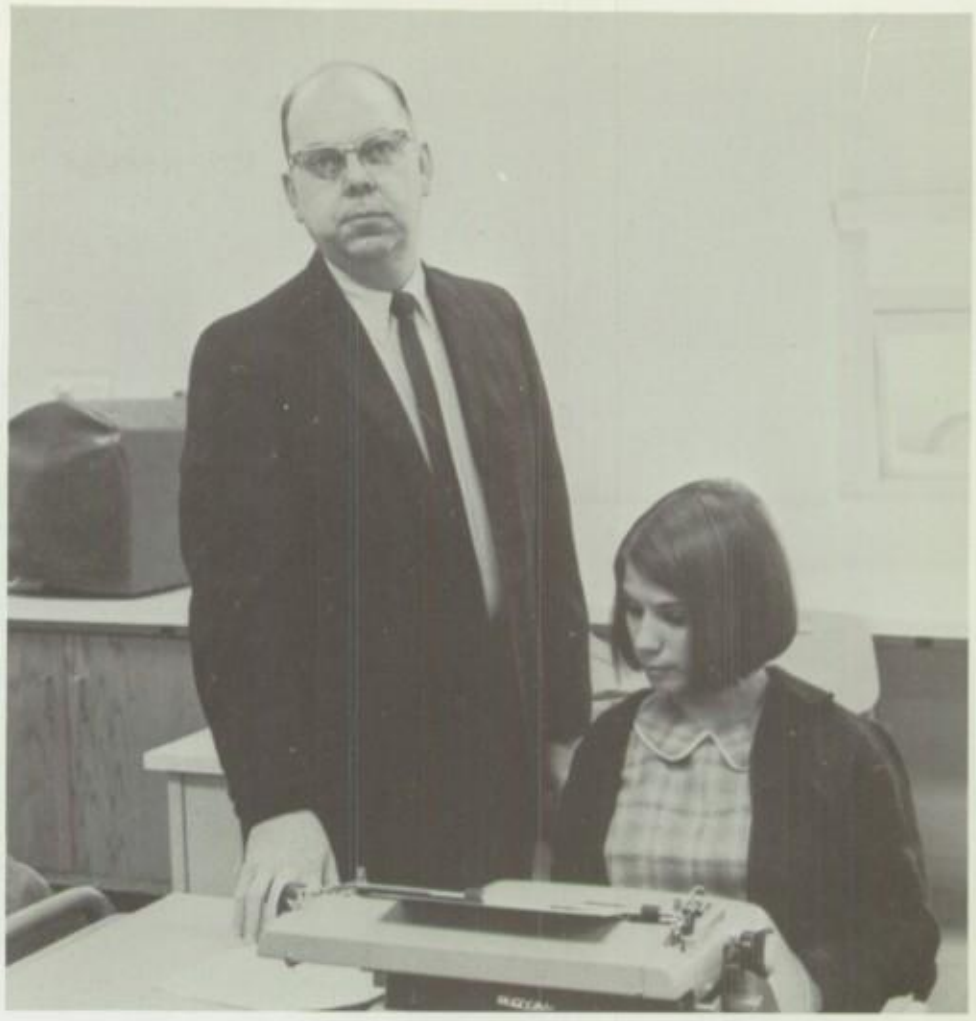
In today's world the critical need of preparing all youths for the world of work must be recognized by all persons concerned with the educational needs of our citizens.



Mr. Charles Lafayette aids Mary Steckler in typing a letter just dictated to her. Shorthand I and II are taught by Mr. Lafayette.

Mrs. Lois Nelson goes over the homework assignment with one of her General Business classes.

Mr. Howard Clark seems to be amused by the antics of his class. He teaches Sales and Advertising, Business Law, Business Management, and Retailing.

Dave Mielke, a 1965 graduate, provides a basic beat necessary for a lively performance of "Sleigh Bells."

By being aware of the new appliances, Mrs. Hopson keeps her classes well-informed of what goes on in the modern kitchen.

Mr. Gray helps members of the choir pool their efforts and blend their voices to attain perfection.

Mr. Payment shows Marsha Bailey a few subtle techniques to bring out the essence of her painting.

Choir Concerts Spur Students' Interest in Fine Art

The traditional Christmas, Winter and Spring concerts were again performed by the Shores Choirs this year. In addition the A Cappella Choir attended the Valley Coast Choir Festival at East Grand Rapids and the District VII Choir Contest where they received a high rating.

The sale of Christmas records was the main project for choir this year. They were a sell-out. Off school time, the choirs, and Allegros, the 16 strong jazz group, sang for area clubs and organizations.

In the art department, a liberal attitude has created an atmosphere for artistic education and achievement. This high degree of freedom has allowed many students to advance in the fields of abstract expressionism and many other areas of relatively sophisticated art.

Names like Dave Rodgers, Steve Van Dyke and Greg Martin headline art shows. The four high school shows were a fantastic success. The paintings shown were moved to the Administration building, where the Board of Education had a chance to see them. Then the showing was transferred to Hackley Art Gallery for two shows. The Area Art Festival and State Art Show were next for the MS Artists.

Mr. John Butterfield, MS band director, points out to a Symphonic Band student the proper count of the measure.

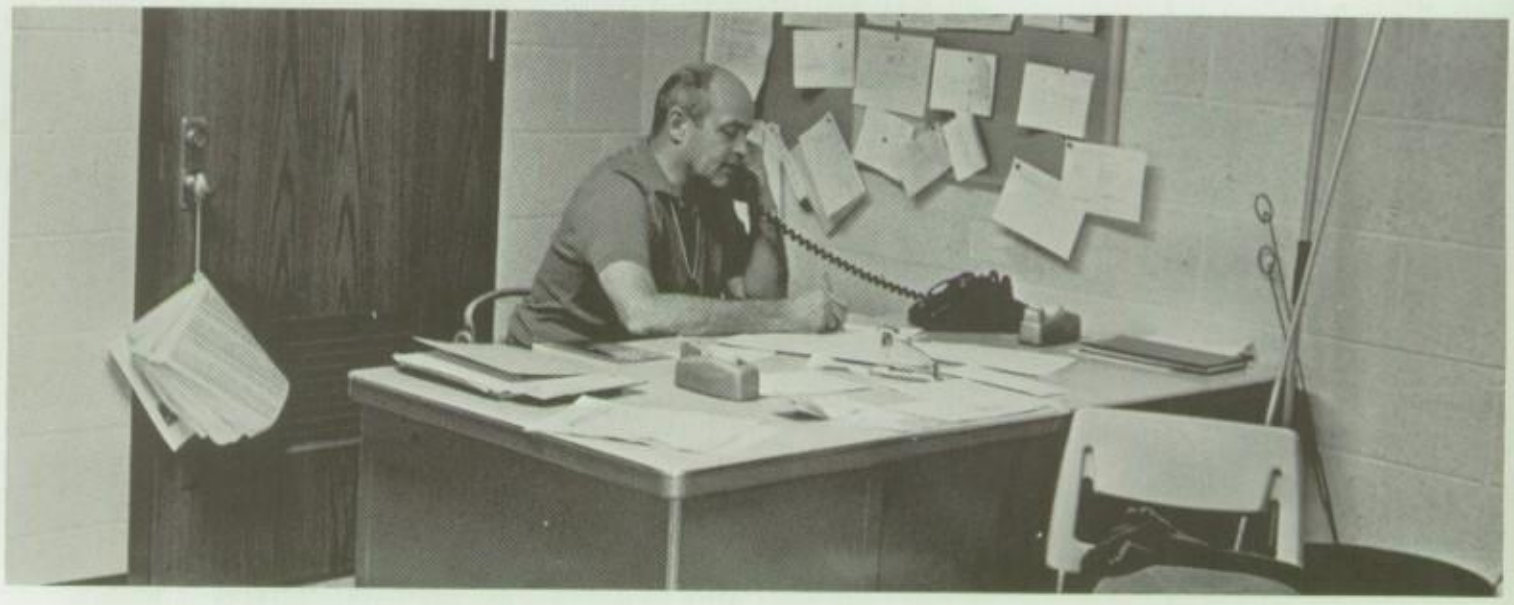
Mrs. Edith Marks stresses the essentials of day to day menu planning in an attempt to make students imaginative as well as technically proficient cooks.

Starting off the second half with a jump ball, Miss Judy Agard, head of the girls' gym, referees the game.

Physical education plays an important part in the development of a sound mind and body.

The girls, under the skillful hand of Miss Judy Agard, participated in outdoor team sports, such as soccer, track, tennis, and softball; indoor sports consisted of gymnastics and basketball.

The boys' gym classes are under the supervision of Mr. Carl Anderson. This year the boys participated in many varied sports, including soccer, track, volleyball, paddle tennis, hockey, basketball, wrestling and gymnastics. During the winter, one day was set aside for both the girls' and boys' classes to play volleyball together. The teams were mixed and the games never failed to prove interesting.



Mr. Carl Anderson, head of the boys Physical Education Department, discusses a physical education program with the head of an area school.

Physical Education Stresses Individual and Team Effort

Two of the women student teachers were Miss Judy Langoni, Civics and Government teacher under Mr. Borgeson; and Miss Jan Agard, Creative Writing and English instructor under Mr. Reed.

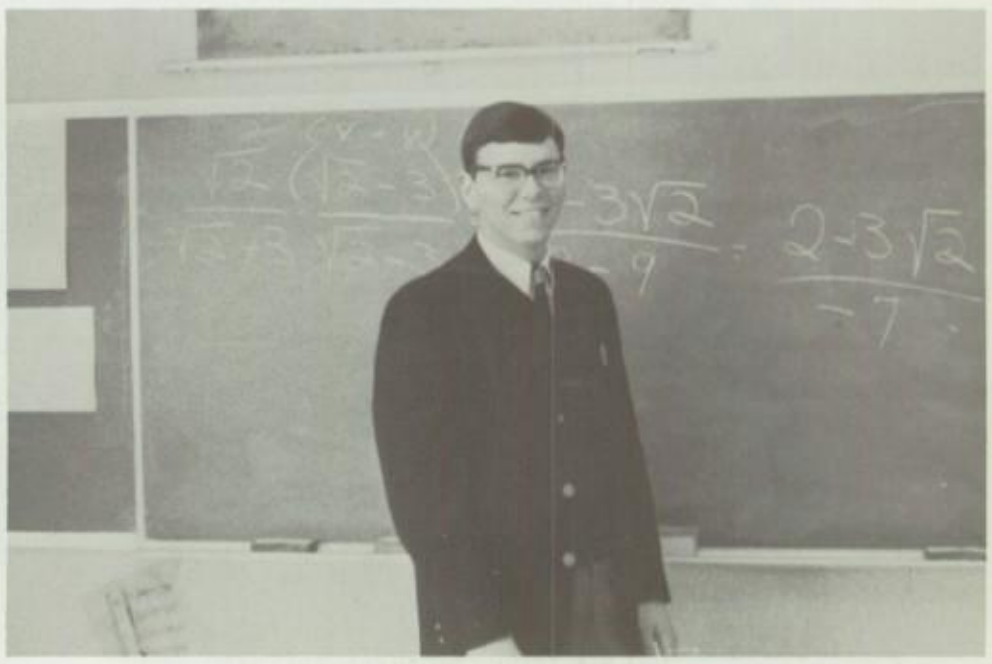
Student Teachers Provide Spark



Guidance Department

This year our counselors visited six Michigan colleges to talk to recent graduates of M.S. The purpose of these visits was to follow the success of our graduates in college and to determine what Mona Shores can do to better prepare students for college.

Mr. Mansfield, Mr. Miller, and Mr. Bean attended counseling sessions at the U.S. Naval and Air Force Academies. These programs were designed to inform counselors on entrance requirements and curriculum of service academies.

The fourth annual "College Information Night" was held in October. Representatives from four leading colleges spoke to interested Juniors and Seniors.

Another edition of the "Senior Factsheet" was published and kept up to date with periodical "Signal Flags."

Mrs. Katherine Pierre listens attentively to one of her student's scheduling problems.

Mr. Carl Mansfield, head of the Counseling Department, advises Ruth Hansen on Junior Colleges.

Going over one of the many college applications are Mrs. Judy Hager and Mr. Charles Miller.

One of the most valuable aids to the counselors is the accumulative (CA-39) file. Below, Mr. Rex Bean examines a Sophomore file.

Clerks and Secretaries Prove Valuable to Mona Shores

Mrs. Clara Kolberg, who is in charge of the bookstore, checks the supply of senior math books.

Looking over a senior's record to be sent into J. C. are Mrs. Audrey Byland and Mrs. Evelyn Brow.

Answering a call from the teachers' lounge is Mrs. Betty Siegal, secretary to Mr. Carrigan.

Answering the phone is just one of the many duties Mrs. Norma Beauleaux has. She is the main clerk in the office.

Looking up from her typing is Mrs. Hazel Leiter, secretary to Mr. Hanichen.

Cooks, Maids, and Custodians . . .

Contribute Much to the Operation of Mona Shores

The custodians, between two shifts, work day and night cleaning rooms and halls, protecting school property, and helping teachers and students whenever necessary.

The cooks plan and serve meals for students and the school staff. On the average, 500-600 meals are served daily.

It is hard to imagine Mona Shores, or any other high school, functioning without the work of these people.

Students help Mr. Harry (Mac) McCully, head custodian for the night shift, clear the gym so that the wrestling mats can be set up.

Mr. Pat Tennant prepares to fix a broken locker, just one of his many around-the-school jobs. He is the head custodian.

Teachers Have Various Ways of Filling Spare Moments

The annual Teachers' Tea offered administration and faculty an opportunity to meet and socialize.

Overall, they finished second in the Valley Coast Conference. M.S. was Greater Muskegon Champions and finished 7th place in the regionals at Grand Rapids. Senior Dan Kimble qualified for the state meet.

Bacon's Rebellion

The Mona Shores varsity gridiron under the new coaching staff of Bob Bacon and Don Mosley, split their 1967 football season with four wins and four losses. Four mainstays of the Sailor squad were chosen for the All Conference Team. They are seniors Nick Drelles and Rod Kitchen, and juniors Roger Funkhouser and Grant Stevenson.

1967 Varsity Football — Linemen

Don Hoekenga booms a punt away, saving M.S. from a critical situation.

Barb Stibitz and Vivian Freberg express their emotions as the Sailors fight for a victory.

This was the year of testing for the M.S. varsity football squad, both for the players and the new coach, Bob Bacon. Oftentimes things were not as we would wish them to be. The Mona Shores gridiron, when failing to pick up first down yardage, was forced into a punting situation. Our cheerleaders, as well as the fans, reflected the moods of the game. Opposing teams drove hard for first down yardage, but Sailor defenders were in pursuit and many times tackled them for a loss.

Rodger Funkhouser, 23, chases after a Big Red carrier in an attempt to run him down.

A Big Red ball carrier is smothered by Rod Kitchen, 66, and Grant Stevenson, 47.

Don Hoekenga leaps and gathers in the pigskin on a pass from Scott Bacon.

The Mona Shore bench looks on as the Sailor offense plunges forward.

The Sailors also had their turn at offense, turning in many fine performances. A totally new offense, as well as defense was initiated and the Sailors proved up to the challenge with many fine performances.

The bench told a story too, as the players were anxious and ready to get on to the field and into the action.

The Sailors were forced to play under all kinds of conditions, but whatever arose they went out and did their best. With hard running and great team work, they gave M.S. a team to be proud of.

The Mona Shores Wrestling squad not only had a great year as a team but also proved to have many outstanding individuals on the squad.

Tom Miller took a first place in the 165 pound division at the Regionals in Grandville. Randy Johnson topped off a great year by taking second place in the 127 pound division. Other medal winners for the Sailor matmen were Phil Neis, who took third place in the 154 pound division, and Donn Olsen, who took fourth place in the heavyweights.

Walt Lillie became the second freshman in Sailor history to place in the Regionals, taking fourth place in his division.

Mona Shores placed fifth out of sixteen teams in the Regionals and sent two of its members, Randy Johnson and Tom Miller, to the State finals in Jackson.

A disappointing year marked the M.S. 67-68 varsity basketball season. There were major setbacks, but never once did the M.S. cagers let down and always produced an exciting game. Some of the brighter points were a last second basket by Scott Bacon giving M.S. a victory over East Grand Rapids in overtime and the final game with Catholic when the Sailors came from behind in the last minutes to pull out a 53-48 victory. The Sailors finished the year with a 6-10 seasonal mark.

Golf and Tennis Create Spring Sports Enthusiasm

This season the Mona Shores Tennis Team had a solid dual match squad as only three of last year's fourteen varsity letter winners graduated.

In the spite of the loss of Dick Livingston and Greg Sando, who graduated, the Sailor's possessed both experience and depth. Phil Halladay and Dave VanDam, defending city doubles champions, took up where Livingston and Sando left off.

This year coach Gary Harden welcomed the biggest turnout in Sailor history. Many of the boys had good potential and one or two years of JV experience.

Enthusiasm was high and competition was keen which enabled Coach Harden to spring a few surprises this season.

The 1968 Sailor Golf team saw one of its strongest seasons ever. Helping to tee Mona Shores off to its many victories were Seniors Floyd Kinsman, Bob Wank, and Bruce Peterson. Outstanding Juniors included Stan Tilton and Howard Branch.

Proving himself to be a real credit to the Sailor team was new Coach Jim Springer.

Mona Shores Excels in Track and Baseball

"The 68 baseball season was one to build on," said Coach Don Dezelsky, "because of the many underclassmen who returned this year to help out in the team efforts."

The Sailors put forth a strong showing despite the rugged competition of the Valley Coast Baseball League. Mona Shores had its three top hurlers back this season; Mark Vincent, Bob Halladay and Jim Depoy. Strengthening the infield were Tony Morano, Don Hoekenga, Donn Sundin, Tony Whitlow, and Harry Visscher.

The M.S. ball team, despite the lack of depth, did a commendable job and made the Port of the Sailors stand out as a permanent threat in baseball competition.

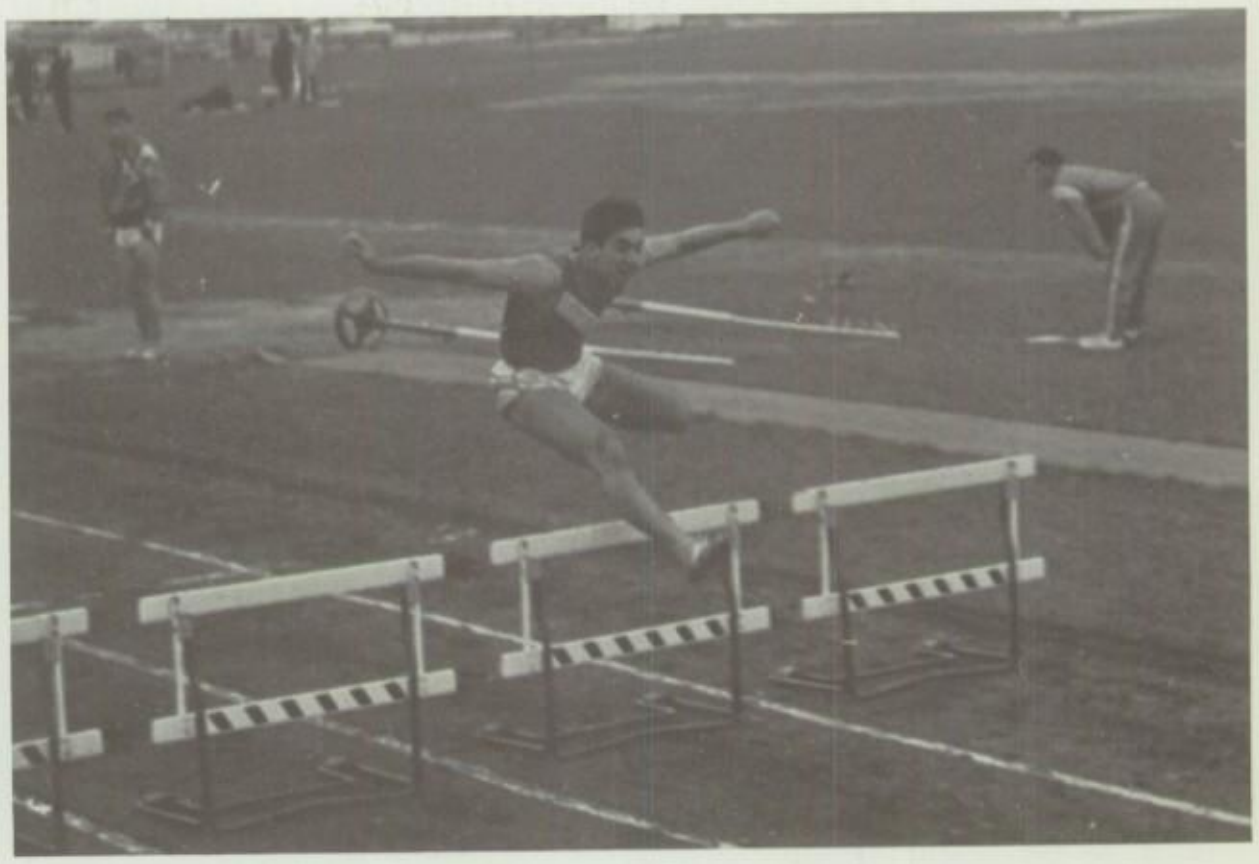
Individual Effort Proves To Be a Success

Mark Klemp clears the bar at 5' 10" taking first place and adding valuable points to the MS total.



Nick Drelles, using great form, sails over the hurdles, leaving his competition far behind.

Bob Hilliard, coming from behind, breaks the tape, winning the 100 yard dash. Due to an injury, Hilliard was unable to participate this year.

Among the pace-setters who returned to lead the way for the Sailor trackmen this year was Bob Luyendyk, showing great running abilities.

The 440 spot was dominated by Paul Lambert, one of the area's top cindermen.

Dick Kelly proved outstanding in the hurdles. Kelly, who came on strong last year, proved himself much better this year.

As in Cross Country, the Sailors excelled in the distances. Dan Kimble, Valley Coast Cross Country Champion, exhibited fine form as he crossed the finish line far ahead of most competition. Steve Burrows also came through for M.S.

The field events were controlled by Donn Olson, shot putt; Mark Klemp, high jump; and Bob Luyendyk and Tom Snyder, long jump.

Coming through with strong support were Dave Mulder in the high jump, Bob Meisch in the 440 and the mile relay, and Tom DePoy in the mile. Dave Hellem and Eric Sonafrank aided the Sailor cause in the distance runs.

Sophomores Randy Mortenson, distance runner; Gary Merkey 880; Dan Thomas, hurdler; and Roger Slorf, 440, added strength to the Sailor cause.

Through the Seasons at Mona Shores

Athletics play an important part for the students at Mona Shores, participants and fans alike.

Sports enable the boys to work, to drive, and to win, for the honor of their school as well as for themselves.

Whether out on the football field, on the track, on the wrestling mat, or on the basketball court; whether on the baseball field, on the tennis court, or out on the fair-way, win or lose, we salute our teams and congratulate them for a job well done.

Cheers and Routines Motivate Sailors

For new and young squads the freshman and J-V cheerleaders show great promise for future years. The cheerleaders have passed their great "Sailor Spirit" to the students through their skillful routines and lively enthusiasm.

The 67-68 year marked the creation of the Shipmates. The club, an idea of Sandy Boyns, was made up of interested girls who meet twice a week with extra practice sessions held before games. They made up their own routines, which they performed at games and pep assemblies. The group held tryouts this spring and will continue to be a "booster club" for the school. Mr. Scott Ross is their sponsor with Miss Agard aiding.

Sock It to 'em — Sailors

This year the Varsity Cheerleaders demonstrated abundant skill and spirit at sports events. Their interests and enthusiasm reflected the cheerleaders' favorite motto, "Sock It to 'em."

Tops on this year's agenda for the cheerleaders was the sponsorship of the Homecoming dance and participation in Junior High Cheerleading Clinics. The purpose of the clinics were to introduce cheerleading techniques to prospective cheerleaders. In addition to their normal duties, they attended summer camps and area clinics.

Homecoming Festivities Feature Floats

Annually the Mona Shores student body participates in Float competition, an event of Homecoming activities. In this year's contest the Senior float "Birth of The Blues" took first place, the Freshmens' "Happiness was Skunking the Pioneers" was second, the Sophomores' "Happiness Was Sophomores Pulling Together" was third and fourth place went to the Juniors with their "Happiness Was Wiping Out Godwin."

Despite adverse weather conditions, affecting players, fan and floats alike, the spirit of '68 prevailed to make the Homecoming parade and dance an enjoyable and successful event.

The class of '68 reveals much imagination as their float "Birth of the Blues" is voted top entry.

Happiness Was: Home-

"Happiness Was" King and Queen Dave Stein and Nancy Patten.

Psychedelic colors and decorations combined to make this year's Homecoming a success. Nancy Patten and Dave Stein, reigning King and Queen '67, gave up their crowns to the new couple, Sandy Boyns and Dick Kelley.

Dance decorations vibrantly alive with colorful balloons and flower mobiles enhanced the homecoming ball. "The Polkateer's" added the finishing touch for the evening by providing entertainment.

Olympics and Yoretyme

Sailor Olympics, sponsored by the Unsinkables and advised by Mr. Funkhouser, sailed to a tremendous success with more than 96 contestants.

This year's Olympics were held after the Grandville Wrestling Match, with Mr. Carrigan as announcer. The winners this year were the class of '69 who will have their names put on a plaque with last year's winners, the class of '68. Winners were: Arm Wrestling, Laurel Wierengo; Tricycle Race, Melva Clark, Sue Fisher, Sam Pulos, and Jim Bacon; Wheel Basket, Julie Beauleaux, Roger Funkhouser, Norma Bader and Jeff Chase; Vickie Wininger and Mike Rouse in the Three Legged Race. The Malt Competition was won by Al Cherry, while Mark Risk took first place in

The competition between Yoretyme Clubs was won by the conquering Ski Club as they prevailed over rival contestants with their marvelous pancake house and informative short movie on skiing.

Co-Chairman of this event were Sandy Boyns and Rick Ridings.

Other booths consisted of an Ice Cream Parlor (YFC), Malts and Cookies (FHA), Jail (Latin JCL), Jewelry (Biology Hon. Soc.), The Red Lion Pub featuring Senior Mugs, (Seniors), Pizza Parlor (Juniors and Freshmen), and the Sophomore flower booth.

Dave Wells, followed by the Majorettes, leads Pep Band out of a Pep Assembly. Pep Band members are Sophomore, Junior, and Senior band members who volunteer their time to support Shores athletes.

Pep Assemblies Boost School Spirit

Pep Assemblies generate spirit among students for the night's game. Athletes are honored, and the school's spirit provides the spark needed to bring out the drive in a team.

The Sophomores won the coveted anchor—symbol of school spirit—a plurality of times. To win, a class must shout loudest at a Pep Assembly. It is tradition for the Sophomore class to have the loudest mouths.

Masters of Ceremony for the Pep Assemblies usually came in twos . . . whether students or faculty. Who can forget the Spirit Stick, Mr. Reed swinging on the basketball hoop, or Super Sailor? Entertainment for the assemblies was in the form of an amusing skit, a cheer by the cheerleaders, or a stunt by the Shipmates. Pep Band instilled spirit for, as well as interest in, the coming game.

Babes in Toyland

"Babes in Toyland", the Shores annual fem-invite, was held Saturday, December 16 in the cafetorium. Presented by the Senior Class the dance was organized by '68-er Sandy Boyns. Stuffed animals and toy soldiers carried out the theme, with the Socks Sabin Band entertaining. Punch was served by the Future Homemakers.

"Individuality" was the key word at the Christmas semi-formal. Dress lengths varied from floor length to knee to mini ... Hair styles were up, down, in curls and straight. Tuxes, suits and vests, sport coats and a few wild pants highlighted the boy's attire.

Pausing between dances for a chat are Warren Woods and date.

Acting Abilities Mona Shores

Mona Shores Thespians displayed their acting ability in their fall play, The Mouse That Roared, on November, 16, 17 and 18.

Mr. Travis Gunter and Mr. Joseph Namenye were co-directors of the play, with Debbie Josephson doing the student directing.

The lead roles were played by Mary Davis as Queen Gloriana XII, who portrayed just the right amount of Royal Dignity. Linda Lange added Comedy with her role as the Page.

Veteran actor John Van Lente, portraying Tully Bascon; Dan Lee, as Count Mountjay; and Dave Van Donkelaar, playing both Mr. Benter and the U.S. President, all did an excellent job as the lead male actors.

The Kooky Professor Kokintz, played by Cliff Daniels, seemed to be the favorite of the audience and deserved much credit for his perfect character portrayal.

This play, with its political satire on the United States and its foreign policies, showed the possibility of a tiny nation becoming a big power.

Larry LaBel frowns in disbelief as Professor Kokintz explains about the bombs. Linda Rasor and Renee Whitworth listen in.

Mike Rose, Secretary of State, seems engrossed in thought while waiting for Queen Gloriana XII to reply to his terms for the return of the bomb.

Jeff Hack and Ginger Atnip give their scene in "A Simple Little Affair" the winning touch that gave their play first place.

Flare Through Dramatic Productions

Tradition has it that every winter the Drama Department selects three students, usually seniors, to direct a one-act play of their choice. Teacher judges and audience vote for the best play and best actor and actress. The winning play and best actor and actress receive trophies in recognition of their outstanding effort.

This year, Beth Reinertson directed the winning play entitled "A Simple Little Affair." Freshmen John Beyrle of "Keep Your Halo Straight," directed by Chris Caughey, and Junior Cindy Bates of "Adam's Rib Hurts," directed by Karen Woods, received the best player awards.

Sally Hein, as the bride, turns in doubt, wondering whether she should go through with the 'Simple Little Affair.'

1967-68 Assemblies Offer a (Welcome) Change in School Life

Ronnie Munn, World Champion Trampolinist, holds his nose after Dave Banta, volunteer (?), took off his shoes. Mr. Munn and his wife amused an all-school assembly.

Patriotic, athletic, for the holidays or amusement . . . special assemblies this year numbered one a month and frequently more.

Russell Wentworth talked on "The Sound of Our Times." Ronnie Munn and his wife bounced on the trampoline —to the delight of Shores students. The Munns were contacted through School Assembly Service in Chicago. There was the Christmas Assembly, the Exchange Assembly honoring Catholic's band, and the Gas Company Assembly. At the Student Forum, juniors and seniors spouted their ideas.

The last assembly of the year, the Honors Assembly, paid tribute to the Seniors in their last week of school.

Mary Coughlin, senior, relates her experiences of a school in California. She advised Sailors to appreciate their school.

Forum members Rick Ridings and Tom Glover listen to Mr. Carrigan speak while Karen Baetzel looks on. Mr. Hanichen, Sue Hitchcock, and Barb Johnson study notes for school improvements during the Student Forum.

Throughout the year members give speeches for small groups which enable them to reach the goal of 250.

Thespians Take Part in National Production

Karen Woods, student director of "Adam's Rib Hurts," gives the introduction to the play and invites the audience to an evening of enjoyment.

Fifteen Mona Shores Thespians had the opportunity to act in a movie that will be shown all over the United States and to meet Vonda Kay VanDyke, the 1965 Miss America. Both of these experiences resulted in the Gospel Productions movie Hey There Vonda.

This was one among many activities that the Drama Department participated in this year. These were, of course, the traditional plays starting with The Mouse That Roared in the fall. In February, Thespians presented the annual One Acts, with three plays produced by Thespians members, "Keep Your Halo Straight," "A Simple Little Affair" and "Adam's Rib Hurts." Thespians also presented a play in late spring.

Many of the Thespians went to Michigan State on March 2nd. They took part in workshops and attended the 17th century comedy, The Would-Be Gentlemen.

The Mona Shores Dramatic classes, taught by Mr. Travis Gunter, performed two plays for other schools, The Pied Piper for area elementaries and Boarding House Reach for the junior highs.

Exchange student Inge Zabel came from Oldenburg, Germany to spend a semester at Shores. Her host was Junior Barb Ploughman. Excelling in music, Inge was an active member in the A Cappella choir. Back home she participated in opera and ballet productions.

Georges Arko displayed his artistic talent by painting the Christmas mural on the front window.

Second semester brought two new exchange students, Roberto Bissio from Montevideo, Uruguay and Margeretta Liljestem from Sundsvall, Sweden. Roberto's host was Junior Dave Jones and Margeretta's Sophomore Leslie Robinson.

Future Homemaker's (left) money making projects this year included the selling of F.H.A. cookbooks, managing the snack bar, and sponsoring a mid-March Spaghetti Supper. This money was later used to defray the cost of trips to New York and Chicago for honorary members.

The club's community project was the Seminole Road Clean-Up. Other activities included the Spring Award Banquet and the supporting of the state Scholarship Fund. Mrs. Edith Marks is advisor.

F.H.A. members Cindy Risher and Marsha Grelewicz take care of a customer, Matt Hanichen, at the snack bar.

Mrs. Betty Siegel, secretary to Mr. Carrigan, gives Barb Stapleton some advice in keeping records. Barb is a member of the Future Secretaries Association which is composed of secretarial students from area schools. Meeting on the last Tuesday of every month, Barb and her fellow members listened to talks on becoming secretaries from businessmen and took various skill building tests. Mr. Charles Layfette is Barb's advisor and represented Mona Shores in the association.

Prepare Students Occupations

Working as Candy Stripers at Mercy and Hackley Hospitals and aiding at the blood bank and the Seaway Convalescent Home were this year's Future Nurses (right). Interested members also assisted at the Tuberculosis Skin Test Clinic here at Mona Shores. A trip to Upjohn Manufacturing Co. in Kalamazoo was included on the agenda for the year. Other activities were the making of Christmas and Thanksgiving favors for hospitals, clinics, and needy families. Miss Jeanne Cooper is the advisor.

Activities for Future Teachers (below) included a Christmas party for the Children's Home and a tour of the newly constructed Muskegon County Community College. Films centered around the problems and challenges of the teaching profession were also shown to interested members. This year's club advisor was Mr. Gary Reed.

Half-time Enhanced by Marching Band

One hundred and forty seven students participated in Marching band to provide festive highlights at halftime during the football season. Two parades were also scheduled for Marching band, but rain prevailed both times.

Doing a fine job as twirlers this year were Debby Bluhm (left) and Gaye Frye (right). Debby, returning from last year, joined her new partner, Gaye, and together they composed their routines and designed new uniforms. Both girls attended the Smith-Wallbridge Institute this past summer.

Completing his first year as drum major was Dave Wells. Dave, presently a Junior, was selected for the position by Mr. Butterfield last year. This past summer Dave attended the Smith-Wallbridge Institute in Syracuse, Indiana for specialized training.

Concerts Highlight Choirs' Year

Concerts for Shores' Anchormen included those for Christmas, Winter, and local junior highs. Other singing engagements were for the Industrial Management Club and the Barbershop Quartet of America. The Anchormen also competed in the district contest held March 30.

Girls Choir gave many concerts this year, including a Christmas and Spring Concert. March 12 the girl singers sang at all the junior highs. A trip to Hudsonville to compete in a district contest took place March 30.

Musical Groups Bring Honors to Shores

With Mr. John Butterfield at the lead Wind Ensemble (left) and Symphonic Band (left below) completed a successful year. Collectively they participated in such engagements as the Christmas Concert, the Winter Concert, the District Festival, and the Spring Concert. Twenty-two of these band members also took part in the All Star Valley Coast Concert that was presented in mid-December.

Under the direction of Mr. Gray, the Allegros (right) and the A Cappella (below) finished another successful year. The Allegros engagements included a television appearance on Channel 54 over Christmas vacation. Other performances were for the Cole's Bakery Employees and the S. D. Warren Retirees. The new look for the Allegros this year was navy and white houndstooth trousers for the boys, with matching culottes and navy blue knee socks for the girls, and saddle shoes and navy V-neck sweaters for all.

Besides performing at many singing engagements, the A Cappella Choir recorded a Christmas record as a money making project to support its Summer Music Scholarship program. Five hundred copies were ordered and a sell-out was completed within a week.

Leadership, service, and character are among the qualities of a National Honor Society member. As a service to the high school, the club strives to stimulate and promote the desire among the student body to serve the school. During the year some of the members appeared on the High School Quiz Bowl on television to compete with other schools in scholastic ability. Activities of the year included the All-School Happening, and hosting a tea for graduates of Mona Shores that were former members of the club.

Biology Honor Society Successful in First Year

In its first year, the agenda for Biology Honor Society included trips to the State Fish Hatchery, Grand Valley State College, Up-John Chemical Plant, Chicago, and as a final climax, a canoe trip. As an asset to the school the club set an objective to conserve and landscape the light courts around the school. Biology Honor Society also promotes the Summer Science Institute. School activities included the All School Happening.

A number of members observe the surroundings at Grand Valley State College.

Y.F.C. Sends Representative to Convention in Chicago

Youth for Christ, a campus life club, strives to develop for its members a social, spiritual, physical, and mental balance in their lives for Christ. This year's regular Thursday morning meetings featured a Hippie Forum, and the first Annual Turkey Bowl, as well as lively discussions about Christianity and Civil Rights. The club participated in such activities as the 5th Quarter Frolic, Holiday Teen Convention in Chicago, and the All-School Happening.

Class Chairmen

The class homeroom chairmen attend the meetings of their class where together they plan the many activities of the year. These include money making projects as well as school sponsored activities.

As a homeroom chairman each student relates to his fellow members the proposals and plans for their class. The chairman in turn carries back to the class meetings any suggestions made by his homeroom to the proposals. Other duties of the chairman are to conduct elections and distribute class news letters.

The main homeroom activity for the Senior class was planning graduation which included elections for the class song, motto, flower,

Michigan's Winter Enjoyed by Skiiers

This year's ski club members spent many enjoyable winter weekends kiing at Chrystal Mountain, Caberfae, and Manistee. Under the advisorhip of Mr. Roy Burch, the club also drafted a new constitution. Other chool activities included the All School Happening.

Ski Club members Kim Erickson, Steve Novak, Gary Grant, and Cindy Cotton pack the car for a week-end of skiing and fun.

Bowling Club Resumes Active Role

A number of Mona Shores students bowled as a school league at Bob-Hi bowling alley on Monday nights. They included those who were interested in learning the basic fundamentals as well as those who wanted to build skill through competition. Forrest Bathrick had this year's high game for the boys with a 207, and for the girls it was Barb Benton with a 182 game.

Varsity Club and Unsinkables Keep Sailors Alive With Spirit

The Unsinkables kept the Sailors floating. Topside for the Unsinkables during the year was the Sailorolympics and Spring Madness. Other activities included the Spirit of '69 Conference, and the sale of Sailor caps. The Unsinkables gave us our victory announcements and our pep assemblies. Included in this coordinating pep group are representatives from all the Cheerleading squads, Varsity Club, Student Council, and the classes, along with Mr. Funkhouser, the Advisor.

Rain or shine the Unsinkables are always there to cheer Mona Shores to victory.

VANDALISM EDITORIAL

The Sailors' Log, a student publication that reflects school life here at Mona Shores, was totally manned by students who worked during the day as well as after school. The staff this year included past experienced members who were assisted by interested Journalism students. Together they published a paper every two weeks and achieved their goal of eighteen issues for the school year.

Innovations Highlight Yearbook Pages

Striving for a better yearbook, this year's Compass Points staff accomplished some firsts for yearbook publications here at Mona Shores. They included color prints, duotones, and a new crest cover design. Art work by Exchange Student, Georges Arko, and Chris Rieckmann also appeared in the yearbook.

The staff met on Wednesday evenings throughout the year to work together and to make sure all deadlines were met. The final deadline was completed in March and for the rest of the school year the staff planned layouts for the next yearbook.

Wendy Risk and Kathy Tarun check over their layouts while Joanne Marecek and Marti Borgesen sort pictures for the yearbook sections.

Georges Arko presents sketches to Eileen Achenbach and Ray Klug, as Mary Kay Brash and Judy Nelson compare for better layouts.

As on a path, through life we strut

Besieged by the pitfalls which each must meet;

And there lies anew in each fork and rut

A challenge met or a blow of defeat.

That same road has its many crossroads too,

One brought us together for these four years;

And soon each will his separate path pursue

To bow to the blows or the brunt to bear.

Wisdom, understanding, the will to succeed

Were well worth the effort if but one we gain;

A thirst for the truth, such things should we need

Give light that these four years were not in vain.

Now praise herself demands of our time
A few moments to honor our worthy guides,
But let not that tribute end with this rhyme:
Masters die, but their good fore'er bides.

And truly the years themselves have been kind:
The joys and sorrows, the hardships, the faces
Leaving memories, life's true staples, behind;
The friendships, the quarrels, and all the places;

All this will guide us through life's long way
And live in our lives 'til each dying day.

Malcolm Hein

Ambitious Seniors Complete Activities and Accomplishments

Leading the way for the 67-68 school year are seniors.

Class officers end a shining year with the Great '68.

"Somewhere in the darkness of tonight tomorrow is being developed," is the Senior Class Motto. The rare ladyslipper was voted Class Flower, and "Impossible Dream" was chosen the song.

During the year, members of the class of '68 actively organized to create another winning homecoming float. The theme, "Birth of the Blues" pictured a baby, signifying the birth of the Mona Shores School System. Seniors gathered their talents and time to plan "Babes in Toyland," the annual Christmas Dance. The Red Lion Pub was the exhibit at Yoretyme, the All-School Happening. Senior Mugs were a sell-out at the booth. More were ordered and sold after the Happening.

Advisors were voted in during the class's freshman year. They are Mr. Roy Burch, Mr. Jacob Funkhouser, and Mrs. Judith Hager.

With graduation June 5, Seniors, decked on their colors, light blue and navy robes, received their diplomas, and ended their high school careers.

Sealed Power Corporation

Provides the RING of Opportunity

Today, Sealed Power is seven modern factories in three countries . . . approximately 1,500,000 square feet of floor space . . . a multi-million dollar investment in modern production machinery, research facilities, and precision-checking devices.

from Canada . . .

to Mexico . . .

. . . but mostly here at home in Muskegon—we are spending additional millions of dollars to stay ahead of the times.

We are investing in our future just as you have done by completing your high school education. Only by preparing in the present for challenges to come, can any of us hope to be successful. Whether you plan to seek immediate employment or pursue a higher education, your high school diploma is a sign of sound preparation.

In Memorial . . . Dr. Harold Dykhuizen

Our present high school may largely be the result of the efforts of Dr. Dykhuizen, who had the courage and perseverence to work for his conception of the high school as an academic preparation for college. Not only did he serve as school board president from 1965 until his death in November 1967, but he was also a member of the Hackley Study Committee and national chairman of the alumni foundations of Hope College and the University of Chicago, both of which he attended. As a tribute to his interest in giving the public the use of books, Mona Shores is setting up a memorial to him in the library.

In addition to all this, he was a dedicated doctor of medicine. Among the many honors he received, he was chief of staff at Hackley Hospital and fellow in the American and International Colleges of Surgeons. In all that he did, Dr. Dykhuizen showed himself to be a true humanitarian, in fact, a benefactor to all who knew him.
